INTRODUCTION

This handbook describes the broad outlines of the French tax system. First, let us consider two questions: the place of taxation within the system of all mandatory levies, and the place of taxation in French law.

I – TAXATION IN RELATION TO OTHER MANDATORY LEVIES

Mandatory levies include taxes, fees for services rendered, customs duties and social security contributions.

Taxes are payments imposed on individuals and legal entities according to their ability to pay without any specific consideration in return in order to cover public spending and achieve the economic and social objectives set by the government.

Fees for services rendered, payable for the use of certain public services or for the right to use them, are also mandatory levies but are not strictly speaking taxes since they entitle the payer to a consideration in return.

Customs duties are distinguished from taxes by their economic purpose, namely to protect the domestic market.

Social security contributions, though mandatory, are not taxes since they are levied for a specific purpose, namely social protection, and benefits are paid in return.

II – TAXATION IN FRENCH LAW

The need for taxation is asserted in Article 13 of the Declaration of the Rights of Man and of the Citizen of 26 August 1789: “For the maintenance of the public force, and for administrative expenses, a general tax is indispensable”, adding that “it must be equally distributed among all citizens, in proportion to their ability to pay”. Article 14 of the Declaration states that “All citizens have the right to ascertain, by themselves or through their representatives, the need for a public tax, to consent to it freely, to watch over its use, and to determine its proportion, basis, collection and duration”.

Unlike other mandatory levies, taxes may be assessed and collected only by virtue of an act of the legislature, i.e. Parliament.

This principle is enshrined in Article 34 of the Constitution of the Fifth Republic of 4 October 1958, according to which rules concerning the base, rates and methods of collection of taxes of all types are set by statute. The executive is therefore involved only in implementing the tax rules defined by Parliament, stipulating the terms and conditions of their application under the control of the tax courts.

Consequently, the tax administration interprets and comments on legal provisions in circulars that must neither add to nor subtract from the law. Otherwise the circular is unlawful and may be nullified by the French Supreme Administrative Court (Conseil d'État) on an appeal from taxpayers. If that is the case, the unlawful circular is not binding on taxpayers. Conversely, the administration may not argue that a circular was unlawful against a taxpayer who has applied it. This guarantee also applies where the administration has issued a formal ruling on the assessment of a given situation with regard to a tax rule. Thus, tax law provides that where a taxpayer has applied a tax rule according to the interpretation given by the administration through published instructions or circulars and not retracted at the date of the relevant operations, the administration may not order additional payments on the grounds of some other interpretation.

In addition, under Article 53 of the aforementioned Constitution, treaties that commit government finances or modify provisions which are the preserve of statute law may be ratified or approved only by an Act of Parliament. Article 55 of the Constitution states that duly ratified or approved treaties or agreements prevail, upon publication, over Acts of Parliament, provided that the other party has applied the treaty or agreement concerned. This means that domestic tax law is subordinate to provisions of international treaties or agreements. Under Article 54 of the Constitution, if the Constitutional Council (Conseil constitutionnel) has declared that an international commitment contains a clause contrary to the Constitution, authorisation to ratify or approve it may be given only after the Constitution has been amended.

This handbook describes the main taxes levied in France, distinguishing four categories:

- taxes on income
- taxes on expenditure
- taxes on assets
- direct local taxes

This handbook merely describes the rules laid down in domestic French law. More detailed information may be found on the portal of the Ministry for the Economy and Finance (<http://www.impots.gouv.fr>), which has been designed to allow non-residents to obtain information that concerns them.

The Public Finances Directorate General provides the general public with all documents containing an administrative interpretation of tax rules in a single, free-of-charge official tax bulletin (BOFIP-Impôts, available from the website of the Ministry for the Economy and Finance).

These documents are also available on the Ministry's website (<http://www.impots.gouv.fr/portail>).

Bilateral tax treaties for the avoidance of double taxation between France and other countries may depart from these rules, which apply only subject to the provisions of such treaties.

A list of tax treaties is appended.

The text of the treaties may be obtained from the Direction des Journaux Officiels, 26, rue Desaix, 75727 Paris Cedex 15 or consulted on the Ministry's website (<http://www.impots.gouv.fr/portail>).

PART I: TAXES ON INCOME

There are four categories of taxes on income in France:

- corporation tax (impôt sur les sociétés, IS)
- personal income tax
- social levies
- payroll taxes

CHAPTER 1: CORPORATION TAX

Corporation tax is a tax, in principle payable annually, on all profits generated in France by companies and other legal entities. It concerns about a third of French companies. Legal entities may be liable to corporation tax:

- At the standard rate of 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % for all their activities. A rate of 28% will apply to:
  - Small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) for profits up to €75,000 for tax years beginning on or after 1 January 2017
  - All taxpayers for profits up to €500,000 for tax years beginning on or after 1 January 2018
  - All taxpayers, with no cap on profits provided their turnover does not exceed €1 billion, for tax years beginning on or after 1 January 2019
  - All taxpayers with no caps on turnover or profits, for tax years beginning on or after 1 January 2020<sup>1</sup>
- At the reduced rate of 15% for SMEs on the portion of profits up to €38,120. This reduced rate is reserved for companies with turnover excluding VAT of less than €7,630,000 over the tax year or tax period, reduced where relevant to twelve months. The company's capital must be fully paid-up and at least 75% must be held continuously by individuals or by a company meeting the same conditions (turnover, paying-up and holding capital). For the parent company of a group as stipulated in Article 223 A of the French General Tax Code (Code Général des Impôts, CGI), turnover is the sum of the turnover of each company in the group. For tax years beginning on or after 1 January 2019, this reduced rate of 15% will be extended to SMEs whose turnover is less than €50 million.<sup>1</sup>
- Or at the following special rates:
  - 0%<sup>2</sup> for long-term capital gains resulting from the disposal of participating interests held for at least two years
  - 0%<sup>3</sup> or 15% for asset allocations or redemptions of securities carried out, under certain conditions, by "tax" venture-capital investment funds and venture-capital companies, and for long-term capital gains resulting from the disposal of units in these venture-capital investment funds and shares in these venture-capital companies, when the seller company has held these units or shares for at least five years
  - 15% for income from granting licences to use patents, patentable inventions or developments thereto, or for certain industrial manufacturing processes and capital gains from the disposal of such items, and, under certain conditions, for income from granting sub-licences to use said items

- 19% for long-term capital gains resulting from the sale of securities of listed companies investing predominantly in property (sociétés à prépondérance immobilière, SPI), when the seller company has held these securities for at least two years
- 19% for net capital gains booked for the sale of premises used as offices or for commercial purposes, which are scheduled to be reconverted into housing units within four years (arrangements applying to sale transactions for valuable consideration carried out by 31 December 2017)
- 10%, 15% or 24% for the income from assets received by non-profit organisations

Furthermore, there are three additional corporate surtaxes and levies:

- A one-off and temporary levy, equal to 10.7% of the corporation tax calculated on taxable profits, was introduced by the fourth 2011 Supplementary Budget Act and extended by the first 2014 Supplementary Budget Act.<sup>4</sup> This additional levy is owed by major companies that record turnover excluding VAT of more than €250 million for the financial years ending between 31 December 2011 and 30 December 2016.
- A 3% corporate surtax is owed on amounts that French and foreign companies and organisations liable to corporation tax in France distribute to their partners, shareholders or unit holders. The surtax applies to amounts distributed as from 17 August 2012;
- In addition, corporation tax payers whose turnover excluding VAT is €7.63 million or more are liable to a social contribution<sup>5</sup> equal to 3.3% of the tax assessed on their taxable profits at the standard rate and at the reduced rates, minus relief that may not exceed €763,000 per twelve-month period.

The tax yielded €33.5 billion in 2015.<sup>6</sup>

A. TAXABLE PERSONS

1 – Persons taxable automatically (Article 206-1 et seq. CGI)

Public and private organisations mentioned in Article 206 CGI are automatically liable to corporation tax. These include:

- Corporations, whatever their corporate purpose: public limited companies (sociétés anonymes, SA), partnerships limited by shares (sociétés en commandite par actions, SCA), simplified limited companies (sociétés par actions simplifiées, SAS), private limited companies (sociétés à responsabilité limitée, SARL), and private limited companies with a single shareholder (entreprises unipersonnelles à responsabilité limitée, EURL) when the single shareholder is a legal entity
  - Civil-law or non-trading companies that carry out commercial or industrial activities (these must not be ancillary activities)
  - The following organisations, for the portion of their profits corresponding to rights:
    - Partners in limited partnerships

<sup>6</sup> Annex to the Budget Bill for 2017: Évaluations des voies et moyens. Vol. I: Les évaluations de recettes.

- Limited liability shareholders in joint ventures whose names and addresses have not been reported to the tax authorities

- Various banking institutions (including Crédit Agricole, Caisses du Crédit Mutuel and Caisses d'Épargne)
- Partners of partnerships, when said partners are legal entities liable to corporation tax
- Professional corporations (sociétés d'exercice libéral, SEL)

In some cases, certain corporations (sociétés de capitaux) may elect to be subject to the regime for partnerships (family-owned SARL and small SA, SARL or SAS, formed less than five years ago).

2 – Persons taxable optionally

The following corporations can, barring exceptions, opt for corporation tax: partnerships, notably general partnerships, civil-law corporations (except for civil construction-sale companies), limited partnerships, joint ventures, healthcare partnerships (sociétés interprofessionnelles de soins ambulatoires, SISA), and EURL and private limited farm companies (EARL) when the single shareholder is a physical person.

This possibility has been extended to limited liability sole proprietorships (entreprises individuelles à responsabilité limitée, EIRL).

3 – The tax regime for other public or private organisations

Public bodies like government-funded institutions and private bodies like non-profit organisations and foundations are not liable to standard-rate ordinary law corporation tax provided that they do not conduct business for profit.

Under special rules, such bodies are liable to corporation tax on certain income they derive from their assets (income from property, agricultural profits, certain investment income), which is not related to business for profit. The applicable rate is 10%, 15% or 24% for certain kinds of investment income, such as income from bonds.

Government-funded institutions, financially independent State bodies, local government bodies at département and commune level, and all other legal entities that operate a business or carry out operations for profit are liable to corporation tax under ordinary law conditions.

However, a body that does not carry out business for profit but receives income from its assets is liable to corporation tax at the reduced rates stipulated by Article 206-5 CGI unless otherwise provided<sup>7</sup>

B. EXCLUSIONS OR EXEMPTIONS

1 – Exclusions

Certain legal entities, which would normally be liable to corporation tax due to their legal status or the nature of their activities, are excluded from corporation tax thanks to special legal provisions. These include:

- The following non-corporate entities:<sup>8</sup> Economic Interest Groups (GIE), European Economic Interest Groups (GEIE), Public Interest Groups (GIP), health and social/medical-social cooperation groups, joint forest management associations and syndicated forest groups

<sup>7</sup> For example, scientific or educational government-funded institutions, government-funded institutions providing assistance, public interest foundations and endowment funds whose articles of association do not provide for the possibility of consuming their endowment in capital are not liable.

<sup>8</sup> Conversely, each member of the aforementioned entities is personally liable to tax proportionally to the rights held in the group (either to income tax or to corporation tax in cases of legal entities liable to the latter). Public Interest Groups (GIP) and health and social/medical-social cooperation groups can opt for corporation tax.

- The following corporations: civil-law companies covered by Article 239 Quater A CGI, professional partnerships (sociétés civiles professionnelles, SCP) and property holding companies (sociétés civiles de placement immobilier, SCPI).

2 – Exemptions

Furthermore, exemptions have been granted to certain legal entities that would theoretically be liable to corporation tax.

These include cooperative corporations, real estate investment trusts (sociétés d'investissements immobiliers cotées, SIIC), companies involved in regional development and housing construction, investment companies, joint venture investment trusts (sociétés de capital-risque, SCR), public-sector entities, non-profit organisations and trade unions, property companies and property management companies.

In addition, regions and entities formed between regions, départements and entities formed between départements, communes, government-funded institutions for intercommunal cooperation (EPCI) with powers of taxation, syndicates of communes and joint syndicates made up exclusively of local authorities or local authority groupings and their public service agencies, where the latter's purpose is to operate or provide a service essential to the collective needs of the local authority's inhabitants, are entirely exempt from corporation tax.

C. TERRITORIALITY

All EU countries except France tax worldwide profits. In France, however, only profits made by enterprises operated in France are liable to corporation tax, whatever their nationality. This means that profits made by a French company in enterprises operated in countries other than France are not liable to French corporation tax; likewise, a foreign company is liable to French corporation tax only on the profit made from enterprises it operates in France.

Consequently, companies liable to tax in France may not deduct losses made by enterprises they operate in other countries from their taxable profit.

The term "enterprise operated in France" means an enterprise which carries on a regular business in France, whether in an autonomous establishment or, if there is no establishment, through representatives without independent professional status, or as part of operations forming a complete business cycle.

Note that these criteria apply only in cases in which no international tax treaty is in effect.

Profits from property located in France and similar rights, and profits, the taxation of which is allocated to France by an international tax treaty, are also taxable in France.

In addition, some profits are taxable in France even if the company is not domiciled in France for tax purposes.

Capital gains on property realised by non-residents are taxed at a rate of 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ %. The tax is calculated on the basis of the corporation tax base and rate rules. Where applicable, the levy is set off against the amount of corporation tax owed in respect of the same capital gains and the surplus may, in some cases, be refunded.

Other profits on property<sup>9</sup> made by legal entities based outside France are also taxed at a proportional 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % rate. Where applicable, the levy is set off against the amount of corporation tax owed in respect of the same profits and the surplus may, in some cases, be refunded.

<sup>9</sup> These are profits made by property dealers; profits made by individuals on the sale of properties they have built or had built and of related property rights; and profits made by individuals who sell land divided into plots intended for development (Article 244 bis CGI).

II – DETERMINING TAXABLE INCOME

A. GENERAL RULES FOR DETERMINING PROFITS

In the same way as enterprises liable to income tax in the category of business profits (bénéfices industriels et commerciaux, BIC), and in principle unlike non-commercial enterprises liable to income tax in the category of non-commercial profits (bénéfices non commerciaux, BNC), companies liable to corporation tax must include all existing receivables and liabilities at the end of a period in the calculation of their taxable profit.

Profit liable to corporation tax is determined according to the same general rules as for the taxation of enterprises liable to income tax in the category of business profits, except for the territorial profit taxation rule, which applies only to enterprises liable to corporation tax.

Profit liable to corporation tax is determined according to the results of operations of all types carried out by the enterprise, including disposals of assets. The tax base therefore broadly corresponds to the difference between net balance sheet assets at the start and end of the period, minus contributions, plus withdrawals made by members or shareholders during the period.

In principle the taxable profit corresponds to the book profit, but the latter is adjusted to take account of tax rules that depart from accounting rules.

3 – TAX CONSOLIDATION (Articles 223 A to 223 U CGI)

In order to neutralise the impact of taxation on economic entities and to bolster firms' competitiveness, the General Tax Code establishes a tax consolidation regime for corporate groups. Corporations liable to corporation tax may opt for this tax consolidation regime.

Under this regime, a French parent company can:

- either pay corporation tax for all the group companies in which it owns at least 95% of the capital during the full tax year, directly or indirectly through companies of the group (known as a “vertical group”). The parent company cannot be 95%-held or more by another corporation liable to corporation tax. The parent company can include all the companies eligible to be members of the corporate group, or only a portion of them.
- or pay corporation tax due on all profits of the group that it comprises along with its associated firms whose share capital is 95%-held or more, directly or indirectly, by a parent company referred to as a “non-resident parent company” established in a European Union Member State or another state that is a party to the European Economic Area Agreement and has signed an assistance treaty with France to combat tax evasion and avoidance agreement with France (known as a “horizontal group”).<sup>10</sup>

Finally, this tax consolidation regime is also available, under certain conditions, to some mutual insurance companies, mutual banking groups and government-funded industrial and commercial institutions (établissements publics industriels et commerciaux, EPIC).

C. CALCULATING THE TAXABLE PROFIT

The taxable profit is equal to the difference between the gross operating profit and incidental income, on the one hand, and deductible costs and expenses, on the other hand.

Under accounting rules, the gross operating profit is the difference between:

- sales and services during the period plus the inventory at the end of the period, and
- the cost of sales and services plus the inventory at the start of the period.

In addition to the gross operating profit, all incidental income or profit generated by an enterprise is in principle taxable. These items include income from the letting of property, interest on receivables, deposits and guarantees and investment income.

As an exception, French parent companies may exclude dividends distributed by their French or foreign affiliates of which they hold at least 5% of the share capital from their taxable profit, with the exception of a portion of costs and expenses equal to 5% (or 1% for members of a corporate group) of the total amount of income from participating interests, foreign tax credits included.

Costs and expenses may be deducted under the following conditions:

- They must be incurred in the direct interest of the business and be connected with the normal management of the enterprise
- They must correspond to an actual expense and be sufficiently substantiated
- They must be included in the expenses of the period during which they were incurred and reflect a decrease in the enterprise's net assets
- Their deductibility must not be called into question by a particular provision of law:
  - Certain expenses are not deductible where they do not correspond to the enterprise's purpose, such as expenses related to hunting or fishing and expenses incurred in providing yachts or leisure craft (expenses classed as luxuries)
  - If they are not deemed as being for commercial purposes, subsidies of any nature granted to another company are also excluded from deductible costs. As a departure from the foregoing, such subsidies remain deductible, within certain limits, when they are granted to companies subject to insolvency proceedings or a conciliation process
  - The tax deduction on loan interest is regulated and is subject to anti-abuse initiatives:
    - 75% maximum limit for the deductibility of net financial expenses for financial years as from 1 January 2014, with a threshold set at €3 million
    - Arrangements for limiting the deduction of financial expenses between associated companies

At the same time, long-term capital gains are taxed separately at the reduced rates of 0%, 15% or 19%, in some cases increased by the 3.3% social contribution.

- Long-term capital gains taxable at 0% are, under certain conditions, those arising from the disposal of participating interests (not including securities of SPIs) held for at least two years or, within certain limits, units or shares in certain venture-capital investment funds or venture-capital companies held for at least five years. Long-term capital gains on the disposal of participating interests are exempt subject to adding back a proportion of expenses and costs equal to 12% of the gross amount of the exempted capital gains on disposal.
- Long-term capital gains taxed at 15% are those realised from certain assignments of patents and also include net income from granting licences and certain sub-licences to use patents, patentable inventions or developments thereto, or from certain industrial manufacturing processes and capital gains from the disposal of such items, and asset allocations or redemptions of securities carried out by venture-capital investment funds and venture-capital companies
- Long-term capital gains taxed at 19% are those resulting from the disposal of the securities of listed SPIs
- Other capital gains are taxed as ordinary profit at the standard corporation tax rate, subject to the exemption, under certain conditions, of capital gains from the disposal of an entire branch of activity
- The regime for long-term capital gains and losses does not apply to capital gains or losses realised on the disposal of securities of companies based in a non-cooperative country or territory, unless the company that holds the securities provides proof that the operations of the company based outside France in which it holds the securities correspond to real operations, with neither the aim nor the effect of shifting profits to a non-cooperative country or territory for purposes of tax fraud.

- Capital losses on the disposal of participating interests to an associated company, when such interests have been held for less than two years, give rise to a tax-loss carry-forward. Conversely, capital gains on the disposal of participating interests to an associated company, when such interests have been held for less than two years, remain governed by the provisions of ordinary law (in principle, taxable at the standard rate of corporation tax).
- Capital gains from sales of securities carried out by a mutual fund (FCP)<sup>11</sup> are taxed at their ordinary law rate as soon as they are paid out to unit holders without tax deferral, for amounts distributed by this fund.

In the event of the transfer of a registered office, including the transfer of fixed asset items to another Member State of the European Union or the European Economic Area, the latent capital gains on these asset items are taxed at the standard corporation tax rate, either immediately or staggered over five years.

The result of these adjustments may show:

- Either a profit, on which corporation tax is assessed
- Or a loss: the deficit may:
  - Either be set off against any profits for subsequent financial years, up to a limit of €1 million, plus 50% of the amount of profit over and above this limit (carry-forward)
  - Or, optionally and under certain conditions, represent an expense for the previous financial year up to a limit of €1 million (carry-back)

III – ASSESSMENT AND PAYMENT OF THE TAX

Companies calculate and pay tax voluntarily in instalments, an adjustment being made when the final results of the period have been established.

Filing and payment deadlines for companies liable to corporation tax have been harmonised.<sup>11</sup> Businesses with 31 December year-ends have until the following 15 May to settle their corporation tax for the previous financial year.

Large companies whose turnover is more than €250 million must anticipate the amount of tax owed for the year when they pay their final corporation tax instalment.

Any tax credits relating to foreign investment income included in the tax base are deducted from the gross tax. These tax credits correspond to the withholding tax on such income.

CHAPTER 2: PERSONAL INCOME TAX

Personal income tax is in principle a comprehensive tax levied on an individual's total income in a given year. Unless otherwise provided, all income, regardless of origin, is aggregated to give an overall net income to which a single tax scale is applied.

The scale has progressive income bands. However, there are many provisions in the method for calculating income tax that allow taxation to be adjusted to personal circumstances.

The 2013 Budget Act amended the tax regime for investment income (dividends and similar income, revenue from fixed-income securities), which is now subject to the progressive income tax scale.

Personal income tax is assessed annually on a tax household's taxable income in a given calendar year, declared the following year.

Article 60 of the 2017 Budget Act no. 2016-1917 of 29 December 2016 established a deduction-at-source system for personal income tax, to take effect from 1 January 2018.

This system aims to modernise income tax collection. Payment of tax due for the current year will be made as and when taxpayers receive their income. The deduction-at-source system will be implemented as follows:

- for wages, salaries, pensions and substitution income, tax will be deducted at source by the payer (employer, pension fund or social security bodies);
- for taxpayers with self-employed income, rental income from property and certain other kinds of income, the tax administration will collect instalments towards tax due for the current year by directly debiting the taxpayer's bank account.

The deduction-at-source system will be based on the most recent information available to the tax administration for each taxpayer.

This system will not change the rules for calculating income tax. It will notably lessen the impact for households (especially with regard to cash management) of the current one-year lag, for most categories of income, between the time income is received and when tax is due.

To avoid taxpayers having to pay tax on two years of income in 2018 (for income received in 2017 and in 2018), an exceptional tax credit will be granted (known as the "tax credit for the modernisation of income tax collection"): This tax credit will cancel the tax on non-exceptional income in 2017 within the scope of the reform, while maintaining the benefit of tax breaks and tax credits for eligible expenses in the same year.

Lastly, this measure does not alter the tax assessment rules. Taxpayers will still be required to file income tax returns in year Y+1 for income received in year Y.

I – TAXABLE INCOME

The following seven categories of income are liable to personal income tax:<sup>13</sup>

- Business profits
- Non-commercial profits
- Agricultural profits
- Income from property
- Wages, salaries, pensions and annuities
- Investment income
- Capital gains

II – SCOPE OF PERSONAL INCOME TAX

A. TAXABLE PERSONS

Under Article 4 A CGI, individuals domiciled in France are taxable on all their income of French or foreign origin. Persons not domiciled in France are taxable only on their income from French sources.

For income tax purposes, France covers mainland France, the coastal islands and Corsica; and overseas départements (Guadeloupe, French Guiana, Martinique, Réunion and Mayotte<sup>14</sup>).

1 – Domicile for tax purposes – Tax household rule

Under Article 4 B CGI, persons are deemed to be domiciled in France for tax purposes if:

- Their home is in France
- Their main place of abode is in France
- They carry on a professional activity in France, salaried or not, unless they can prove that it is a secondary activity
- They have the centre of their economic interests in France

Government employees who perform their duties or are on assignment in a foreign country and are not liable to personal tax on their overall income in that country are also deemed to be domiciled in France for tax purposes.

Personal income tax is assessed on the basis of the “tax household”, i.e. the family entity consisting of a single person, two partners in a civil union or spouses, whatever their marital property regime, and their children or other dependants. The tax base therefore generally comprises the total income of the various members of the tax household.

<sup>13</sup> There is an eighth category, comprising the remuneration of certain company heads (especially majority managers of private limited companies), the tax rules for which are similar to those for wages and salaries. For the purposes of this handbook, it is therefore included in the category covering wages, salaries, pensions and annuities.

<sup>14</sup> Mayotte has been an overseas département since 31 March 2011. Article 1 of Order no. 2013-837 of 19 September 2013 on the adaptation of the Customs Code, the CGI, the Book of Tax Procedures and other legislative and customs provisions enforced in Mayotte makes income tax applicable in Mayotte as from taxation of income received in 2013 and declared in 2014.

2 – Tax treatment of persons domiciled in France

Regardless of their nationality, persons domiciled in France for tax purposes are taxable on their worldwide income.

3 – Tax treatment of persons not domiciled in France

Subject to the provisions of tax treaties for the avoidance of double taxation, regardless of their nationality, persons not domiciled in France are taxable in France on their income from French sources only. Under Article 164 B CGI, only the following are deemed income from French sources:

- Income from property situated in France or from rights relating to such property
- Income from French transferable securities and all other securities invested in France
- Income from business concerns situated in France
- Income from professional activities, salaried or not, or from for-profit operations carried on in France
- Capital gains on the transfer for valuable consideration of property or rights of all kinds and profits derived from transactions carried out in particular by property dealers, where they relate to businesses operated in France and to properties situated in France, property rights relating to them or shares in unlisted companies whose assets mainly consist of such property and rights
- Capital gains on the transfer of shares in companies having their registered office in France
- Amounts, including salaries, in consideration of artistic or sporting performances given or used in France

Under Article 164 B CGI aforesaid, the following are also deemed income from French sources where the payer of the income has his tax domicile or is established in France:

- Pensions and annuities
- Income received by inventors or in respect of copyright and all income derived from industrial or commercial property and similar rights
- Amounts paid in consideration of services of any kind rendered or used in France

Taxpayers domiciled outside France who receive income from French sources must in principle file a tax return.

B. EXEMPT PERSONS

Under the 1961 and 1963 Vienna Conventions on Diplomatic and Consular Relations, diplomatic and consular staff of foreign nationality are exempt from personal income tax on their official remuneration and their income from foreign sources.

III – TAXATION OF INCOME RECEIVED BY INDIVIDUALS

As from 31 December 2015, the means of determining taxation regime thresholds will be standardised. The limits and reference years concerning business profits (BIC) and non-commercial profits (BNC) for the very small business regime will be aligned with those applying to the dispensation from VAT, and the simplified regime for business profits will be aligned with that chosen for VAT. Lastly, a new method for the three-yearly updating of tax thresholds will be rolled out as from 1 January 2017.

A. PERSONS DOMICILED IN FRANCE

1 – Business profits

Business profits include profits from industrial, commercial and craft activities, from certain activities taxed in that category by law (such as profits made by property dealers) and, under certain conditions, from secondary activities.

The rules for determining the tax base are in principle identical to those that apply to corporation tax. However, the territorial rule for corporation tax does not apply to profits of enterprises liable to personal income tax.

Determined from the book profit, the taxable profit therefore corresponds to the result of all operations of any kind performed by the enterprise, subject to other adjustments under tax law. However, small businesses may opt for a simplified regime that reduces their accounting obligations, and very small businesses<sup>15</sup> are generally taxed, unless they opt for actual assessment, on a notional profit equal to a percentage of their turnover (29% of sales of goods and housing provision, not including furnished rentals, and 50% of sales of services).

Taxpayers with a VSE may also opt, under certain conditions, to make a social security and tax payment in discharge of tax on a notional basis. If they do so, they pay social security contributions and income tax on the activity on a monthly or quarterly basis by applying a 14.1% rate<sup>16</sup> to sales of goods or a 24.4% rate to sales of services in the previous period.<sup>17</sup>

In addition, the taxable profits<sup>18</sup> of businesses subject to actual assessment in this category, which do not belong to an approved small business management centre or do not use a chartered accountant, are increased by 25%.

2 – Non-commercial profits

Non-commercial profits include the profits of the professions and of offices and practices whose holder does not have trader status, and the profits of all occupations, for-profit concerns and sources of profit not falling within any other category of profits or income (regular stock market trading, royalties, income received by inventors, etc.).

Taxpayers taxed on an actual assessment basis, called the “controlled return” (déclaration contrôlée) regime (i.e. those with annual revenue in excess of €33,200 excluding VAT), must fulfil certain accounting obligations. They are required to keep a ledger itemising their business revenue and expenditure and a record of fixed assets and depreciation.

Unlike business profits and profits liable to corporation tax, taxable non-commercial profits are equal, in principle, to the difference between revenue actually received and expenditure (including depreciation) necessary for the practice of the profession that have been paid and are justified.

Persons taxed on their non-commercial profits under the notional assessment system, called “micro-BNC” (i.e. with annual revenue less than or equal to €33,200 excluding VAT) are required only to keep an accounting record of their revenue. Under this regime, the taxable profit is equal to 66% of revenue. Such taxpayers may opt, under certain conditions, to make a monthly or quarterly social security and tax payment in discharge of tax on a notional basis. If they do so, they pay social security contributions

<sup>15</sup> Enterprises whose annual turnover does not exceed €82,800 excluding VAT for sales of goods or housing provision, not including furnished rentals, or €33,200 excluding VAT for sales of services.

<sup>18</sup> The purpose of the increase is to offset the 20% allowance in the progressive income tax scale. The allowance formerly applied to income in the wages and salaries category and to income in the business profits, non-commercial profits and agricultural profits categories of members of an approved management centre or association taxed on an actual basis.

and income tax on the activity on a monthly or quarterly basis by applying a 24.7% rate to revenue in the previous period.<sup>19</sup>

Under an actual assessment regime, taxable profits are increased by 25% unless the taxpayer is a member of an approved small business management centre or uses a chartered accountant.

3 – Agricultural profits

Agricultural profits include in principle all income that farmers, tenant farmers or working owners derive from the operation of rural property. Generally speaking, agricultural profits include income derived from crop farming, livestock breeding, forestry, and the sale of biomass or energy mostly derived from farming.

Depending on the level of farming income, the “micro agricultural profits” (or “micro-BA”) regime applies. This regime replaces the flat-rate agricultural regime as from the 2016 tax year.<sup>20</sup> The taxable income for small farming operations under the micro-BA regime is equal to the average of income for the current year and the two previous years, from which a fixed-rate allowance of 87% for expenses is deducted. By comparison, under the previous flat-rate agricultural regime, taxable profits were based on physical criteria, to which negotiated rates were applied.

4 – Income from property

Unless otherwise specified in international tax treaties, tax is due on income from developed or undeveloped property, even when such property is not located in France.

However, where such income is linked to the pursuit of an industrial, commercial, craft, agricultural or non-commercial activity, it is included in the profits of the activity according to the relevant rules. The 2016 Supplementary Budget Act<sup>21</sup> provides that all income from furnished rentals shall be treated as business profits beginning in 2017, even in cases of occasional or seasonal furnished rentals.

Net income from property is determined in one of the following two ways: the simplified “micro-foncier” regime, or the actual regime.

Taxpayers whose gross income from property does not exceed €15,000 and who do not let properties covered by certain special regimes automatically benefit from a simplified tax regime called “micro-foncier”. In this case, the taxable income from property is determined after deducting a notional 30% allowance representing all expenses on the property from the revenue received for the year of taxation.

Taxpayers whose annual gross income from property exceeds €15,000 are covered by an actual regime. In this case, the taxable income from property is the difference between the amount of revenue received for the year of taxation and the total amount of expenses on the property paid during the same year. An exhaustive list of eligible expenses is given by law.

However, persons entitled to automatically benefit from the “micro-foncier” regime may opt for the actual regime.

Furthermore, there are a certain number of incentive schemes to encourage buy-to-let investment.

Thus, the 2016 Supplementary Budget Act<sup>22</sup> created the “Cosse” incentive scheme. Beginning with income tax for the 2017 tax year, this scheme allows landlords who rent property as part of an agreement with ANAH (Agence Nationale de l’Habitat – the national housing agency) to benefit from a specific deduction for rental income. This deduction ranges from 15% to 85% depending on how tight the rental market is in certain areas of France.

Alternatively, the tax incentive for buy-to-let investments may take the form of an income tax cut.

Under the Pinel Act, acquisitions of new housing units made between 1 September 2014 and 31 December 2017<sup>23</sup> provide entitlement to a reduction in income tax to promote buy-to-let investment in the middle-income sector.

The tax reduction rate is 12% for an initial six-year rental commitment and 18% for an initial nine-year commitment. Following these six- or nine-year periods, taxpayers are entitled to an additional tax reduction of 6% or 3%, accordingly, for each three-year extension of the rental commitment. The tax reduction could ultimately reach a maximum of 21% for a twelve-year rental commitment. To benefit from this tax reduction, landlords must respect caps on rent and on tenants' resources. These caps are adjusted on an annual basis. Moreover, to be eligible for this tax reduction, housing must meet certain energy performance criteria.

5 – Wages, salaries, pensions and annuities

This category includes:

- Wages, salaries, compensation and emoluments received in consideration of an employment, including the remuneration of senior managers of public limited companies (chairman of the board, managing directors, deputy managing directors and members of the management board) and managers of private limited companies, allowances paid to members of the French and European Parliaments, and allowances paid to the holders of local elected offices;<sup>24</sup>
- Pensions and annuities

The net amount of taxable income in this category is determined by deducting, inter alia, mandatory social security contributions and, when the person is in active employment, expenses inherent in the function or job from the gross amount paid.

Unless otherwise provided, gross earned income includes all amounts and benefits in kind available to the taxpayer. Professional expenses are normally taken into consideration on a notional basis (a 10% deduction, capped and reviewed each year).<sup>25</sup> However, taxpayers may opt to deduct the actual amount of their professional expenses, subject to the production of vouchers.

Pensions and annuities without consideration are eligible for a 10% special allowance, though the amount for all members of the household may not exceed an amount increased each year in the same proportion as the upper limit of the first band of income tax, i.e. €3,715 for the taxation of income earned in 2016.

Purchased life annuities (RVTO) are eligible for a notional allowance at a rate which varies from 30% to 70% according to the recipient's age (from under 50 to 70 or over) when the annuity becomes payable.

Under certain conditions and at the beneficiary's express and irrevocable request, pension benefits paid in the form of capital may be subject to a 7.5% flat-rate withholding tax which discharges the income to which it applies from income tax.

All income from the exercise of stock options or the acquisition of bonus shares allocated on or after 28 September 2012 is taxed on the basis of the ordinary law rules for wages and salaries.<sup>26</sup>

<sup>24</sup> Previously, allowances for local elected officials could be subject to withholding tax. This regime has been cancelled, and all allowances paid after 1 January 2017 are automatically taxed under the ordinary rules for wages and salaries (Article 10 of the 2017 Budget Act no. 2016-1917 of 29 December 2016).

Vesting gains on bonus shares allocated by an extraordinary meeting of shareholders between 8 August 2015 and 30 December 2016 are taxed under the same rules, after applying allowances for the length of ownership applicable to transferable securities.<sup>27</sup>

For bonus shares allocated by an extraordinary meeting of shareholders on or after 31 December 2016, only the portion of the vesting gain up to an annual cap of €300,000 is taxed under the progressive income tax schedule after applying these allowances.<sup>28</sup> The portion of the vesting gain that exceeds this annual limit is taxed under the ordinary law rules for wages and salaries.

6 – Investment income

This category covers income from variable-yield and fixed-income securities.

Income from variable-yield securities includes income from shares and similar income distributed by legal entities liable to corporation tax or to an equivalent tax (or opting for this tax). It may fluctuate depending on the performance of the issuer.

Income from fixed-income securities includes income from bonds and other negotiable debt securities and income from receivables, deposits, guarantees, shareholder advances, Treasury bills and short-term notes issued by public- or private-law legal entities. The rate of return is usually fixed during the investment period, but this is not always so.<sup>29</sup>

INCOME FROM VARIABLE-YIELD SECURITIES (DIVIDENDS AND SIMILAR INCOME)

Income distributed by French or foreign companies liable to corporation tax or an equivalent tax and received by individuals who are resident of France for tax purposes is liable to personal income tax at a progressive rate, after deducting, if the companies have their registered office in France, a European Union Member State or in a State or territory having concluded a tax treaty with an administrative assistance clause to combat tax evasion and avoidance with France,<sup>30</sup> a 40% allowance

Prior to being subject to the progressive income tax scale, all income distributed, whether eligible or not for the 40% allowance, received by individuals who are resident of France for tax purposes, is subject to a 21% non-discharging mandatory deduction at source (instalment). This withholding tax is paid during the first fifteen days of the month following the month in which the income is paid and is set off against the income tax due for the year in which it was applied (income tax paid the following year). If it is more than the tax owed, the surplus is refunded.

However, individuals who are resident of France for tax purposes, and whose household reference taxable income does not exceed €50,000 for single taxpayers or €75,000 for taxpayers taxed jointly, can opt out of this withholding tax.

Since 1 January 2013, income distributed by companies based in France has been liable to a 75% mandatory flat-rate withholding tax which discharges income tax when it is paid outside France in a non-cooperative country or territory, regardless of the tax domicile of the recipient of this income, unless the debtor provides proof that this income corresponds to operations whose primary purpose and effect are not to shift income to a non-cooperative country or territory.

INCOME FROM VARIABLE-YIELD SECURITIES (DIVIDENDS AND SIMILAR INCOME)

In principle, this income is subject to the progressive income tax scale.

<sup>30</sup> The fixed annual allowance of €1,525 for a single person and €3,050 for a couple taxed jointly was repealed by Article 9 of the 2013 Budget Act (Act no. 2012-1509 of 29 December 2012) for distributed income paid out as from 1 January 2012.

Since 1 January 2013, prior to being subject to the progressive income tax scale, income from fixed-income securities received by individuals who are resident of France for tax purposes is subject to a 24% non-discharging mandatory withholding tax (instalment). This income can be in the form of interest, arrears, revenue of any nature from government stock, bonds and other negotiable debt securities (such as equity securities and treasury bills issued by the public or private organisations referred to in Article 118 CGI).

This withholding tax is paid during the first fifteen days of the month following the month in which the income is paid and is set off against the income tax due for the year in which it was applied (income tax paid the following year). If it is more than the tax owed, the surplus is refunded.

However, individuals who are resident of France for tax purposes, and whose household reference taxable income does not exceed €25,000 for single taxpayers or €50,000 for taxpayers taxed jointly, can opt out of this withholding tax.

In addition, some income is subject to a withholding tax discharging income tax liability:

① Optional:

- income from fixed-income securities received for a year by a tax household when the amount is less than €2,000 and for which the taxpayer has opted to pay income tax at the fixed rate of 24%. The option is exercised when filing the tax return for all income.
- income relating to life insurance policies and capitalisation bonds and contracts for which the beneficiary, an individual who is resident of France for tax purposes, elects for payment of the flat-rate withholding tax discharging income tax. The rate of the withholding tax is 35% if the term of the policy/contract is less than four years, 15% if the term is between four and eight years and 7.5% when the term is eight years or longer.

② Mandatory:

- income from fixed-income securities where the debtor is based in France and which is paid outside France in a non-cooperative country or territory – barring exceptions. The rate of this mandatory withholding tax is set at 75%;
- income from fixed-income securities that is relinquished, pursuant to so-called “sharing” solidarity-based savings, in favour of public interest bodies which are compulsorily subject to a 5% flat-rate withholding tax discharging income tax liability;
- income from bonds subject to tax anonymity arrangements (bearer bonds) which are subject to a 42% withholding tax when the bonds or securities were issued between 21 January 1980 and 31 December 1997 and to a rate of 60% when issued subsequent to 1 January 1998.

Certain regulated savings income is expressly exempt from income tax: interest on Livret A, Livret d'Épargne Populaire (LEP), Livret Jeune and Livret de Développement Durable (LDD) savings accounts. Interest on home-ownership savings accounts (comptes d'épargne-logement, CEL) is also exempt from income tax.

Interest on home-ownership savings plans (plans d'épargne-logement, PEL) is subject to the progressive income tax scale (or, optionally, a flat rate of 24%) for the portion of accrued interest as from the plan's twelfth anniversary. In this case, the banking establishments managing PELs withhold tax at source.

Article 25 of the 2015 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2015-1786 created a mechanism for recognising capital losses realised by individuals not acting in a professional or commercial capacity, on crowdfunding loans made on or after 1 January 2016 by way of a crowdfunding website. The loss is allowable for personal income tax alone and recognised in the tax year during which the debt becomes definitively uncollectable and, where applicable, during the five following years (Article 125-00 A CGI).

Article 44 of the 2016 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2016-1918 extended this mechanism to “mini-bonds”. Thus, for an individual managing his or her own personal assets, on crowdfunding loans made, or “mini-bonds” subscribed, on or after 1 January 2017, losses can be set off against interest earned on other crowdfunding loans and “mini-bonds”, without distinction, in the tax year during which the debt becomes definitively uncollectable or the five following years. Furthermore, the aforementioned article introduced an overall cap of €8,000 per year for the amount of these losses for the sole purpose of determining the income tax base.

7 – Capital gains

Capital gains may be realised by individuals in the course of managing their private assets or in the pursuit of a business activity.

CAPITAL GAINS REALISED BY PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS

The taxation of capital gains realised by private individuals applies to capital gains on property and capital gains on the transfer of securities or shares for valuable consideration.

Capital gains on disposals without valuable consideration are not taxed as such, but are included in the assessment base for duty on transfers without valuable consideration (see Taxes on assets).

Capital gains on property:

Capital gains realised by individuals in the course of managing their private assets, during the sale for valuable consideration of property or property rights, are subject to income tax at a rate of 19%.<sup>31</sup>

Capital gains realised on the disposal of securities of companies not liable to corporation tax whose assets mainly comprise property or property rights (“companies investing predominantly in property”) are subject to the same rules.

The taxable event is the sale for valuable consideration of the property, the rights relating to it or shares in companies investing predominantly in property. The capital gain is therefore taxable for the year in which the sale takes place, whatever the terms on which the price is paid.

However, some capital gains are expressly exempt from tax. This applies in the event of:

- The sale of the seller’s main residence
- The sale of property for less than €15,000
- The first sale of a housing unit other than the seller’s main residence, provided all or part of the sale price is used to acquire or build a housing unit for use as the main home within a period of 24 months from the initial sale. The seller must not have been the owner of his or her main home at any time over the four-year period preceding the sale.

The taxable base is equal to the difference between the sale price and the purchase price paid by the seller (or the market value if the property was acquired free of charge), plus, where relevant, certain exhaustively specified expenses and charges.

The calculated gross capital gain is reduced by an allowance based on length of ownership, the rates and timeframe of which are aligned regardless of the nature of the sold property for sales carried out since 1 September 2014, to wit:

- for the tax base, an allowance based on length of ownership of 6% after the fifth year, followed by an allowance of 4% at the end of the twenty-second year of ownership, therefore leading to total exemption of capital gains on property from income tax at the end of the twenty-second year of ownership;
- for the social contribution base, an allowance of 1.65% for each year of ownership after the fifth year, then 1.60% for the twenty-second year of ownership and, lastly, 9% for each year of ownership subsequent to the twenty-second year, therefore leading to total exemption of capital gains on property from social levies after thirty years of ownership.

Moreover, an exceptional allowance equal to 30% of the net taxable capital gain is applicable under certain conditions, in particular the start of a transaction by an agreement to sell (promesse de vente) having acquired its legal date prior to 30 December 2015, for sales of constructed property between 1 January and 31 December 2015 that are earmarked for demolition by the buyer with an eye to rebuilding housing units in areas of France suffering from a lack of housing supply.

Similarly, an extraordinary 30% allowance for the purposes of calculating the net taxable base, both for income tax and social levies, of capital gains from the sale of building plots has been introduced. This extraordinary allowance applies on the dual condition that the sale was preceded by an agreement to sell having acquired its legal date between 1 September 2014 and 31 December 2015 and that the sale is concluded by 31 December of the second year following the year in which the agreement to sell acquired its legal date at the latest.

In principle, capital losses on property sales cannot be set off against either capital gains of the same kind or overall income. Exceptionally, capital losses and gains may be set off in certain exhaustively specified cases, such as where the sold property was acquired by successive fractions.

The notary is responsible for drawing up the return, filing it and paying the corresponding tax on the seller's behalf to the land registry in the location of the property. Payment is made when the sale deed is presented for registration.

No return needs to be filed if the capital gain is not taxable because it is expressly exempt or because it is eligible for the allowance based on length of ownership or if the sale generates no capital gain or a capital loss.

Under most international tax treaties concluded by France, capital gains on the sale of property are taxable, by virtue of an exclusive right or not, in the country where the property is situated. Where no such treaty exists, capital gains realised by a resident of France on the sale of property in another country are taxable in France.

Moreover, capital gains on property representing a taxable amount of more than €50,000 are subject to a surtax. This surtax does not concern capital gains from the sale of building plots or related rights. The rate is between 2% and 6% based on a progressive scale depending on the amount of the taxable capital gain. It is owed by the seller and payable under the same conditions as income tax.

Capital gains on the disposal of securities and shares:

Article 10 of the 2013 Budget Act<sup>32</sup> and Article 17 of the 2014 Budget Act<sup>33</sup> overhauled the arrangements for the taxation of net gains on the disposal of securities and shares realised by persons domiciled in France for tax purposes.

Capital gains on the disposal of securities and shares made as from 1 January 2013 have therefore, without exception, been taxed at the progressive rate of income tax instead of at a proportional rate.

Capital gains on sales are subject to the progressive income tax scale after applying an ordinary law allowance which increases on the basis of the length of ownership of the securities or shares sold: 50% from two years up to eight years and then 65% thereafter

Investments in startups, small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs less than ten years old when the sold shares were subscribed for or acquired) and transfers of undertakings are fostered by the introduction of an increased allowance at the progressive rate depending on the length of ownership of the securities or shares sold: 50% from one to four years, 65% from four to eight years and 85% as from eight years.

Capital gains realised by SME owner-managers taking their retirement are subject to a special fixed allowance of €500,000. Any potential surplus capital gains above this amount are then subject to the aforementioned proportional allowances.

At the same time, a number of derogations, which have been revised in this increased allowance regime, have been repealed (inter-family transfers, sale of innovative startups, assignments by SME owner-managers exercising their pension entitlements).

Provided all the conditions are met, the aforementioned allowances for length of ownership apply only to the portion of the capital gains remaining after setting off capital losses of the same kind (capital losses for the current year or carried over from the ten previous years). When applicable, the gross amount of capital losses is offset against the gross amount of capital gains.<sup>34</sup>

In addition, transactions for the contribution of shares to companies controlled by the contributor are compulsorily subject to the tax deferral provided for in Article 150-0 B ter CGI.

Adjustment mechanisms for capital gains with tax deferral expiring on or after 1 January 2013

Article 34 of the 2016 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2016-1918 amended the tax regime under the progressive tax scale for capital gains with deferred taxation when the event terminating this deferral occurs on or after 1 January 2013.

Thus, for capital gains not eligible for the holding period allowance, the amount of capital gains placed under deferred taxation at the taxpayer's discretion before 1 January 2013 is reduced by applying a monetary erosion coefficient to the acquisition price of the securities subject to the transaction that triggered the tax deferral. This coefficient is based on the most recent consumer price index excluding tobacco published by INSEE at the date of the aforementioned transaction. This index is calculated between the date the securities were acquired and the date they were contributed.

With regard to capital gains subject to compulsory tax deferral under Article 150-0 B ter CGI, income tax and, where applicable, the levy on top earners are calculated by applying the tax rate determined at the date the securities were contributed, under the conditions specified in Article 200 A 2 ter CGI. This tax rate is applied only to the deferred capital gains.

Social security contributions for capital gains subject to compulsory tax deferral under Article 150-0 B ter CGI are assessed at the rate in force the year these capital gains were realised.

Claims from an earn-out clause

Earn-outs received on or after 1 January 2013 are taxable under the progressive income tax scale in the tax year they are received, irrespective of the length of time between the date of the sale of the securities and the date the earn-out is paid. Claims from an earn-out clause are eligible for the ordinary or increased holding period allowances, as well as the fixed allowance where applicable, when the holding period condition is fulfilled as at the date of the disposal of the securities (BOI-RPPM-PVBMI-20-20-20-10, section 80). The rates are those applied to the net capital gain on the disposal, or that would have been applied if the disposal had been eligible.

Immediate taxation of cash equalisation payments received in exchange or contribution transactions

During certain transactions involving the exchange or contribution of securities or assets, taking place as from 1 January 2017, subject to the stay on capital gains taxation (under Article 150-0 B CGI) or to deferred taxation (under Articles 150-0 B bis and 150-0 B ter CGI), and for which the taxpayer receives a cash equalisation payment, the capital gain is taxed for the year of the exchange or contribution transaction to the extent of the amount of the cash equalisation payment only (Article 32 of the 2016 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2016-1918 of 29 December 2016).

Exit tax scheme

Exit tax arrangements provide that taxpayers who were resident of France for tax purposes for at least six of the ten years prior to the transfer of their tax domicile outside France are taxed during this transfer for unrealised capital gains on securities, stocks and shares held directly or indirectly by members of their tax household on the transfer date.

Transfers of tax domicile outside France, that have taken place since 1 January 2014,<sup>35</sup> cause taxation of income tax and social levies:

- On unrealised capital gains relating to a stake of at least 50% in the profits of a company held by the taxpayer and members of his tax household
- On capital gains when assets in securities and shares exceed a total of €800,000

Unrealised capital gains, deferred-tax capital gains and claims from an earn-out clause are all in principle taxed at the progressive income tax scale, after taking account (where applicable) of the allowances available for length of ownership for capital gains tax on securities pursuant to the general regime and the incentive regime.

An automatic stay of payment, without the furnishing of guarantees, is granted if the taxpayer transfers his domicile for tax purposes to an EU Member State or to an EEA Member State, excluding Liechtenstein. If the domicile for tax purposes is transferred to a country other than those mentioned above, the stay may be granted, at the taxpayer's request, and in consideration of the guarantees that the taxpayer has to furnish before his departure. However, when the departure is justified on professional grounds, no guarantee is required for the stay of payment to be effective provided the new country of residence has signed an administrative assistance treaty with France to combat tax evasion and avoidance, as well as a mutual recovery assistance treaty whose scope is similar to that of Directive 2010/24/EU. An exhaustive list of the countries or territories concerned is given in BOI-ANNX-000445. This list is updated annually in the Exit Tax filing notice no. 2074-ETD.

The SME innovation account (compte PME innovation, CPI)

The SME innovation account (CPI) was created by Article 31 of the 2016 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2016-1918 (Article 150-0 B quinquies CGI). For a CPI opened after 1 January 2017, entrepreneurs can transfer shares of their company to the CPI and benefit from favourable tax treatment for capital gains on disposals of these shares. Income tax on capital gains is due only when assets or securities are removed from the CPI, provided certain conditions are met. Notably, the proceeds of disposals of securities in the CPI must be reinvested in startups.

However, social security contributions due on capital gains realised on assets held in the CPI are withheld on an annual basis by the establishment that manages the CPI.

Investment income on assets held in the CPI, as well as any liquidation surpluses, are taxed outside the CPI under ordinary law conditions.

Share savings plan (plan d'épargne en actions, PEA) to finance SMEs and mid-tier firms

Persons investing via a share savings plan (PEA) in shares or in units of certain mutual funds comprising mainly equities are exempt from tax for dividends and capital gains on PEA assets provided that no withdrawals are made from the PEA for a period of five years (Article 16.3 quinquies D CGI).

Article 70 of the 2014 Budget Act no. 2013-1278 of 29 December 2013, amended by Article 13 of the 2013 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2013-1279 of 29 December 2013, established a share savings plan to finance SMEs and mid-tier firms, known as the "PEA-PME". The PEA-PME replicates the main rules applicable to the PEA. The chief difference between the two savings plans is the kinds of eligible securities and the cap on contributions.

Article 27 of the 2015 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2015-1786 simplified the eligibility criteria for the securities of “listed” SMEs to be eligible for the share savings plan for SMEs (“PEA-PME”), by adding alternative eligibility criteria valid from 1 January 2016.

Furthermore, this article extends the scope of securities eligible for this plan to encompass:

- Certain listed debt securities (convertible bonds or bonds redeemable in shares)
- Shares in European Long-Term Investment Funds (ELTIFs), provided that these funds hold at least 50% eligible securities and no ineligible property assets.

Moreover, to prevent the operating conditions of the PEA and PEA-PME from being circumvented, Article 94 of the 2016 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2016-1918 introduced two provisions for securities acquired in these plans as from 6 December 2016:

- “Self-sales” are prohibited, meaning that a PEA account holder cannot transfer securities held outside the PEA into the PEA
- Clarifications were given on how the 25% ownership threshold is assessed in cases of indirect ownership of the savings plan

Capital gains on the disposal of money-market fund shares reinvested in a PEA-PME

Article 20 of the 2015 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2015-1786 (Article 150-0 B quater CGI) created a temporary deferred taxation mechanism for income tax on capital gains from the disposal of shares of cash-equivalent collective investment schemes (“money-market funds”) carried out between 1 April 2016 and 31 March 2017, if the proceeds of this disposal, net of social security contributions, are reinvested in a share savings plan for SMEs (“PEA-PME”). Provided certain conditions are fulfilled, this tax deferral becomes a definitive tax exemption if no withdrawals are made from the savings plan for five years after the date of the reinvestment.

Transactions carried out on a financial forward market

Transactions carried out on an occasional basis on a financial forward market, regardless of the market's location, on or after 1 January 2015 by individuals domiciled in France, are governed by the rules for capital gains on securities laid out in Article 150 ter CGI. The holding period allowances do not apply to these capital gains (Article 19 of 2015 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2015-1786 of 29 December 2015).

However, Article 36 of the 2016 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2016-1818 provided for a flat-rate income tax of 50% on profits made by individuals on transactions involving forward financial instruments when the account-keeper or contracting party has its tax domicile or is located in a non-cooperative country or territory within the meaning of Article 238-0 A CGI (Article 150 ter, paragraph 3).

This exceptional tax rate does not apply if the taxpayer can demonstrate that the operations giving rise to these profits correspond to real operations, with neither the aim nor the effect of shifting profits to a non-cooperative country or territory for purposes of tax fraud (Article 150 ter, paragraph 3).

Capital gains on the sale of movable property

Sales of movable property are covered by ordinary law arrangements for capital gains on movable property belonging to individuals. Capital gains realised on such property are liable to income tax at a flat rate of 19% and to social security contributions, as well as being subject to the special provisions concerning the flat-rate tax on valuable objects (taxe forfaitaire sur les objets précieux, TFOP) that is presented hereinafter.

The taxable capital gains, calculated according to the difference between the sale price and the purchase price of the goods, are reduced by a 5%<sup>36</sup> allowance for each year of ownership after the second year, meaning that there is total exemption after twenty-two years of ownership.

Nevertheless, sales of precious metals, jewellery, works of art, collectibles and antiques are covered by the TFOP. The tax applies to the good's sale price. The rate is 10% for sales of precious metals and 6% for sales of jewellery, works of art, collectibles and antiques.<sup>37</sup> The social security debt repayment contribution (CRDS) at a rate of 0.5% is also applicable to the sale price.

The TFOP is owed by the seller. However, if an intermediary is involved in the transaction, or otherwise, if the buyer is liable to VAT and based in France, he is responsible for settling the tax.

Optionally, sales of goods automatically liable to the TFOP may be subject to the ordinary law tax arrangements for capital gains on the sale of movable property, provided the seller is able to provide proof of the purchase date and price of the sold good or, otherwise, that he has owned it for more than twenty-two years.

BUSINESS CAPITAL GAINS

Business capital gains are profits of an exceptional nature made on the sale of fixed assets by industrial, commercial, craft, agricultural or non-commercial enterprises.

A distinction is drawn between long-term and short-term capital gains (or losses). Short-term capital gains (or losses) are generally included in the base of the taxable profit subject to the progressive income tax scale, while long-term capital gains are taxed at a reduced rate equal to 31.5% (income tax for 16% and social levies for 15.5%).

The distinction between the long-term and short-term regimes is made according to the following rules:

- For non-depreciable assets, capital gains (or losses) are deemed to be short-term where the assets are disposed of within two years of being booked. In other cases, capital gains are long-term;
- For depreciable assets, capital gains (or losses) on disposal are deemed short-term. However, if the asset has been held for longer than two years, the portion of the capital gain greater than the amount of the depreciation applied is deemed to be long-term;
- Business capital gains realised by a taxpayer exercising an agricultural, commercial, industrial, craft or liberal profession may be totally or partially exempt under certain conditions:
  - on the sale of an individual enterprise or complete branch of activity where the activity<sup>38</sup> has been pursued for at least five years and the value of the sold assets does not exceed certain thresholds;
  - on the retirement of an individual where the activity has been pursued for at least five years: this exemption applies only to income tax at the 16% rate and does not apply to social levies (at the 15.5% rate), which remain payable;
  - an allowance of 10% per year of ownership after the fifth year may be deducted from long-term capital gains on the sale of property allocated by the enterprise to its own operation, meaning that they are entirely exempt after fifteen years.

Capital gains realised by very small businesses are totally or partially exempt where the business activity has been pursued for at least five years and turnover does not exceed certain thresholds.

<sup>38</sup> This exemption also applies to enterprises liable to corporation tax under certain conditions, relating in particular to the ownership of their capital by individuals.

ARRANGEMENTS APPLYING TO THE FIRST SALE FOR VALUABLE CONSIDERATION OF A TEMPORARY USUFRUCT MADE BY A TAXPAYER LIABLE TO INCOME TAX

Revenue from the first sale for valuable consideration of a same temporary usufruct is, as a departure from the provisions for taxation of capital gains, liable<sup>39</sup> to income tax in the category to which the profit or income, received or likely to be received from the good or right to which the sold temporary usufruct relates, belongs on the sale date.

B. PERSONS NOT DOMICILED IN FRANCE

In principle, persons not domiciled in France must file an annual return reporting all their income if they have income from French sources. The rules for income received by persons domiciled in France are the same in principle for income received by persons not domiciled in France.

However, specific arrangements exist.

Withholding tax is applied to some income from French sources received by persons not domiciled in France. In some cases the withholding may discharge the income tax liability partly or in full, meaning that progressive rates of tax are not applied to the income in question.

The rate of levies and withholding taxes on income paid or certain capital gains made in a non-cooperative country or territory or paid by persons (individuals or legal entities) whose residence for tax purposes or registered office is located in such a country, are increased by 75% (50% prior to 2013).

Some types of income are expressly exempted when received by non-residents.

1 – Income subject to withholding tax

WITHHOLDING TAX RELATING TO NON-COMMERCIAL OR SIMILAR INCOME (ARTICLE 182 B CGI)

Profits from non-commercial activities carried on in France by persons not domiciled there are taxable under the same rules as for profits of the same kind received by persons domiciled in France.

However, withholding tax at 33⅓% is levied on non-commercial or similar income paid by a debtor carrying on a business activity in France to individuals (or companies) that do not have a permanent business establishment in France.

Withholding tax at the same rate is also generally levied on remuneration paid for services of any kind actually provided or used in France. However, the rate is 15% for amounts, including salaries, paid for sporting performances provided or used in France.

The rate of the withholding tax is increased to 75% when the amounts, other than salaries, are paid to individuals domiciled or based in a non-cooperative country or territory.

The amount of the withholding is set off against the income tax (or corporation tax) payable by the individual (or company) on income from French sources. The withholding is not refundable.

WITHHOLDING TAX RELATING TO INCOME FROM ARTISTIC PERFORMANCES (ARTICLE 182 A B/S CGI)

Amounts paid for artistic performances given or used in France by a debtor carrying on a business activity in France to persons that do not have a permanent business establishment there are subject to withholding tax at 15%.

This rate is increased to 75% when the amounts paid for artistic performances, other than salaries, are for the benefit of individuals domiciled or based in a non-cooperative country or territory.

<sup>39</sup> In accordance with the provisions of Article 13(5) CGI, in its wording originating from Article 15 of the third Supplementary Budget Act for 2012 (No. 2012-1510 of 29 December 2012).

For compensation paid in 2016, this withholding discharges income tax for the portion up to €41,909.

WITHHOLDING TAX RELATING TO WAGES, SALARIES, PENSIONS AND ANNUITIES (ARTICLE 182 A CGI)

Wages, salaries, pensions and annuities paid to individuals not domiciled in France are liable to withholding tax calculated on a three band scale, the limits of which vary in the same proportion as the closest limit of the tax scale:

- No withholding tax is levied if the annual amount is less than €14,446
- Withholding tax is payable at 12% on income between €14,446 and €41,909
- The rate is 20% for income in excess of €41,909

The withholding can normally be set off against the final amount of tax payable.

That being said, the withholding on wages, salaries, pensions and annuities discharges income tax for the taxable portion, taxed at 12%, which does not exceed €41,909 for 2016. This arrangement is reserved for French nationals who do not have their tax domicile in France and for nationals of countries that have concluded a treaty with France containing a non-discrimination clause. The portion is not included in the income tax calculation and the corresponding withholding cannot be set off against it.

In contrast, the taxable portion of the income in question which exceeds the above-mentioned limit is included in the income tax calculation and the corresponding part of the withholding can be set off against the amount of tax.

However, these provisions do not mean that taxpayers must declare only the excess portion. They must report all wages, salaries, pensions and annuities from French sources available to them during the year of taxation together with the total amount of withholding tax levied on such income on their annual tax return.

2 – Other income from French sources subject to deduction at source in discharge of tax liability or to withholding tax

FINANCIAL INCOME

Income from variable-yield securities (dividends and similar income):

A 30% withholding tax in discharge of income tax liability is levied on dividends and similar income distributed by French companies to individuals not domiciled in France for tax purposes or to legal entities that do not have their registered office in France, other than certain undertakings for collective investment.

The rate of this withholding tax is reduced to 21% for dividends and distributions similar in nature to those eligible for the 40% allowance for individuals having their tax domicile outside France in an EU Member State or in another State which is party to the agreement on the European Economic Area and which has signed an administrative assistance treaty with France to combat tax evasion and avoidance.

The rate is increased to 75% for income and revenue paid outside France in a non-cooperative country or territory, regardless of the tax domicile of the individual receiving this income and revenue.

The rate is reduced, or the tax even waived altogether, under most international tax treaties.

Directors' fees

“Ordinary” directors' fees and other similar compensation mentioned in the first paragraph of Article 117 bis CGI are liable to income tax in the category of investment income.

When the aforementioned compensation is paid to individuals who are not residents of France for tax purposes, a 30% withholding tax is applied at source. However, individuals who are residents for tax purposes of an EU Member State, Iceland, Norway or Liechtenstein may ask for a refund of the additional 30% withholding tax applied at source on directors' fees and similar compensation, for compensation paid as from 1 January 2016, provided that they are liable to tax on investment income on the tax scale for the same year, under the conditions for non-residents (Article 83 of the 2015 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2015-1786 of 29 December 2015).

The withholding tax is levied by the entity legally responsible for paying it, namely the last payer in France. However, European financial intermediaries (also based in Iceland, Norway and Liechtenstein) may pay the withholding tax due on income distributed by listed French companies to their non-resident shareholders to the French government provided that they have concluded an agreement with the French tax administration and have been authorised by the entity legally responsible for paying the tax to file returns and make payments.

Income from fixed-income securities (dividends and similar income)

The flat-rate withholding tax applies, at an increased rate of 75%, to revenue from fixed-income securities paid by a debtor domiciled or based in France outside France in a non-cooperative country or territory, regardless of the tax domicile of the beneficiaries.

CAPITAL GAINS ON PROPERTY

Under most international tax treaties concluded by France, capital gains on the sale of property are taxable in the country where the property is situated. Capital gains on the sale of a property situated in France by a taxpayer domiciled outside France are taxable in France.

Capital gains on property realised by non-residents are taxed in principle at a proportional 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % rate.

However, they are taxed at 19% when they are realised by non-resident individuals.

Moreover, non-residents may be entitled to certain exemptions from capital gains tax on property and, in particular, to a special exemption for sales of housing units located in France.

The exemption is limited to one residence per taxpayer and to €150,000 of net taxable capital gains, under the dual condition that:

- the seller has been resident of France for tax purposes for a continuous period of at least two years at any time prior to the sale;
- the sale is concluded by 31 December of the fifth year following the year when the seller transfers his tax domicile outside France at the latest or, without conditions as to time limits, when the seller has had free enjoyment of the property at least since 1 January of the year preceding the year of the sale.

PROFITS FROM PROPERTY

Certain profits made by individuals domiciled outside France from property are subject to a withholding tax in discharge of income tax of 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % which is increased to 75% when the profits are made by taxpayers domiciled in a non-cooperative country or territory.

They are:

- profits made by property dealers;
- profits made by individuals on the sale of properties they have built or had built and of related property rights;
- profits made by individuals who sell land divided into plots intended for development.

CAPITAL GAINS ON THE DISPOSAL OF SHARES DERIVING FROM SUBSTANTIAL INTERESTS

Unless otherwise provided for by an international tax treaty, gains resulting from the disposal by individuals or legal entities that do not have their tax domicile or registered office in France of shares in French companies are taxed at a flat rate of 45%<sup>40</sup>, where the seller, his or her spouse and their descendants and ascendants hold, or have held at some point during the previous five years, directly or indirectly, shares representing more than 25% of the corporate profits of the company whose shares have been sold. This levy discharges the income tax owed within the limit of the amounts having been subject to this tax.

However, individuals who are non-residents of France may apply for repayment of the portion of the 45% levy that exceeds the proportion of income tax that would have resulted from this gain being subject to the progressive income tax scale, calculated for non-residents.

Capital gains on the sale of shares in French companies are taxed at a flat rate of 75%, regardless of the proportion of rights to the profits of the relevant company, when they are realised by individuals or organisations domiciled, based or incorporated outside France in a non-cooperative country or territory.

CAPITAL GAINS DISTRIBUTED BY VENTURE CAPITAL COMPANIES

Amounts distributed by venture capital companies (VCCs) to non-resident individuals taken from the net capital gains on the disposal of shares by the company are subject to a 30%<sup>41</sup> withholding tax (Article 163 quinquies C CGI).

However, individuals who are non-residents may apply for repayment of the portion of the 30% levy that exceeds the proportion of income tax that would have resulted from this distribution being subject to the progressive income tax scale calculated for non-residents.

Such distributions are subject to a 75% withholding tax when they are paid in a non-cooperative country or territory.

GAINS FROM EMPLOYEE SHAREHOLDING AND SIMILAR SCHEMES

Pursuant to the provisions of Article 182 A ter CGI, gains from French sources deriving from employee shareholding schemes and other employee benefits providing salaried employees and senior managers with shares under preferential conditions are subject to a specific withholding tax when the sale of the corresponding shares is carried out by a person who is not domiciled in France.

This withholding tax applies to employee gains and benefits from the granting of stock options, bonus shares, founding share subscription warrants (bons de souscription de parts de créateur d'entreprise, BSPCE) and, more broadly, from any granting of securities to salaried employees and senior managers under preferential conditions as consideration for their work in France when said persons are not domiciled in France for tax purposes.

The withholding tax is calculated by applying the base and rate rules provided for by the specific tax arrangements for these benefits when such apply or on the basis of the withholding tax rules laid down for salaries.

3 – Exemption of certain categories of income or profits from French sources received by persons not domiciled in France for tax purposes

Gains from the transfer of transferable securities for valuable consideration that are made directly or through an intermediary by persons not domiciled in France for tax purposes and do not derive from substantial interests are exempt from income tax. This also applies to legal entities whose registered office is situated outside France.

<sup>40</sup> Rate applicable since 1 January 2013. Prior to this date, the rate was 19% for gains realised.

<sup>41</sup> Rate applicable since 1 January 2014. This rate was 45% for amounts distributed in 2013 and 19% for capital gains realised before that date (BOI-RPPM-PVBMI-10-30-20-20160304).

Interest on deposits made by non-residents with credit institutions established in France, as well as interest on most bonds subscribed for by non-residents are also exempt, except for interest paid by these institutions in an uncooperative country or territory, irrespective of the tax domicile of the beneficiaries (see section §.2 above).

Finally, salaried employees and senior managers treated in the same way for tax purposes (and certain non-salaried employees) who are called upon by a company based abroad to work for a limited period for a company based in France, and salaried employees and senior managers who are directly recruited in a foreign country by a company based in France, are entitled to exemptions in respect of their earned income. These arrangements apply to persons who were not domiciled in France for tax purposes during the previous five years and who set their tax domicile when taking up their position in France.

Such “impatriates” are exempt until 31 December of the eighth year following the year<sup>42</sup> in which they take up their position for the years when they are domiciled in France. The income tax exemption also applies to 50% of certain investment income and income from intellectual or industrial property rights received in other countries (“passive income”) and certain capital gains on the disposal of transferable securities and shares held in other countries.

IV – DETERMINATION OF TOTAL INCOME

In principle, taxable income is determined by adding up the net income in each category available to a tax household during the year of taxation.

TAXABLE INCOME IS A TOTAL INCOME

This means that it includes all the net income of the members of a tax household in one or more categories of income.

At the same time, losses in certain categories of income are set off, in principle, against other kinds of income and any overall loss can be carried over to the total income of the subsequent six years. However, there are certain exceptions.

Property losses cannot be set off against total income except for the fraction resulting from expenditure other than loan interest, up to a limit of €10,700. The fraction that exceeds €10,700 or results from loan interest can be set off against income from property in the following ten years.<sup>43</sup>

Losses on an agricultural activity can be set off against total income only if the taxpayer's net income in other categories does not exceed a certain limit (this limit was €107,826 for income earned in 2017). Otherwise, agricultural losses can only be set off against agricultural profits over the following six years.

Likewise, losses from the exercise in a non-professional capacity of activities treated as business or non-commercial profits for tax purposes may not be set off against total net income but only against profits from such activities carried out in the same year or in the following six years.

Under the same conditions as taxpayers domiciled in France, those not domiciled in France may set off losses of the same origin against profits or income from French sources, provided that these losses are from French sources.

TAXABLE INCOME IS AN ANNUAL DISPOSABLE INCOME

The tax household is, in principle, taxed on its actual disposable income during the year (or tax period, if it derives from a non-salaried professional activity).

<sup>42</sup> Article 71 of the 2017 Budget Act no. 2016-1917 of 29 December 2016.

<sup>43</sup> However, property losses in respect of historic buildings can be set off against total income with no limit on the amount of said losses.

However, exceptional or deferred income may, under certain conditions, be taxed under the income splitting system (quotient familial), which alleviates the impact of progressive taxation.

TAXABLE INCOME IS A NET INCOME

For economic or social reasons, some personal expenditure of the tax household is treated for tax purposes either as expenses deductible from total income or as tax reductions or credits that represent a percentage of the capped amount of the expenditure.

Court-ordered or statutory maintenance payments may be deducted from total income, in principle for the actual amount. Other exhaustively specified expenses may also be deducted, although the amount is generally capped.

V – CALCULATING THE TAX

The authorities calculate personal income tax on the basis of the amounts declared by taxpayers, who are required to file a single return per tax household reporting all income received in the previous year.

In addition, those receiving income from professional activities (business profits, non-commercial profits, agricultural profits), investment income, income from property and capital gains on property are required to attach special declarations to the overall return. The calculation of income tax takes the taxpayer's personal situation into account.

The income tax calculation is adjusted to personal circumstances, inter alia, by means of an income splitting system and by allowing taxpayers tax reductions or credits for certain personal expenses.

THE INCOME SPLITTING SYSTEM

Income splitting is a way of taking dependants into account and, accordingly, to cushion the effects of progressive taxation by applying the progressive rate to a partial income, namely taxable income per part.

The method involves dividing the tax household's taxable income into a certain number of parts (e.g. one part for a single person, two parts for a married couple or partners of a PACS (civil union), an additional half-part for each of the first two dependent children and an additional part for each dependent child thereafter).

The progressive tax scale is then applied to the taxable income per part.

Starting in 2012, a new 45% tax bracket was introduced to tax income. The 2015 Budget Act removed the 5.5% tax bracket and lowered the threshold for application of the 14% tax bracket as from taxation of income for 2014.

The scale, corresponding to one part, is as follows (2016 income):

Portion of taxable income (one part)	Rate
For the portion under €9,710	0%
For the portion over €9,710 and less than or equal to €26,818	14%
For the portion over €26,818 and less than or equal to €71,898	30%
For the portion over €71,898 and less than or equal to €152,260	41%
For the portion over €152,260	45%

This tax per part is multiplied by the number of parts to determine the gross amount of tax payable.

For an equal number of dependants, however, the tax benefit from the income splitting system increases with the amount of taxable income. The benefit is therefore capped, at €1,512 per half-part after the first two (as in the case of a married couple with one or more dependent children).

Lastly, taxpayers with low incomes are eligible for relief on the taxes from the tax scale and after capping the effects of income splitting (gross tax), which alleviates the impact of entering the progressive income tax scale.

For 2016 income tax, the relief applies when the tax is less than €1,553 for single, divorced or widowed taxpayers and €2,560 for couples taxed jointly.

The 2017 Budget Act established a tax break, in Article 197 I.4.b CGI, for taxpayers whose tax household's taxable income is less than €20,500 for the first part for single, widowed or divorced individuals and less than €41,000 for the first two parts for individuals filing jointly. For families, these limits are increased by €3,700 per additional half-part. This tax reduction is equal to 20% of the amount of income tax under the progressive income tax scale after capping the effects of income splitting and the tax relief,<sup>44</sup> for single, widowed or divorced individuals whose reference taxable income is less than €18,500 or less than €37,000 for individuals filing jointly. Above these limits, the rate of the tax reduction declines.

CALCULATING THE NET TAX

The next step after determining the gross tax is to deduct any tax reductions and tax credits for which the taxpayer may be eligible, subject to the overall cap on tax breaks (see below).

In this respect, the benefit of tax reductions and credits (e.g. for employing a home help, childcare, donations to charitable associations, etc.) earned in 2017 will still apply even when the tax credit for the modernisation of income tax collection (see the Introduction to Chapter 2 above) cancels tax on non-exceptional income received in 2017 and included in the scope of the reform.

Certain personal expenditure by the taxpayer that parliament wishes to encourage, in particular for social or economic reasons, gives entitlement to a tax reduction or tax credit. The amount of the tax break corresponds to a given percentage of the actual expenditure, up to a ceiling. It is therefore usually independent of the amount of the taxpayer's income. In addition, any surplus, on the tax calculated after deducting tax reductions, of the tax benefit arising from tax credits may be refunded. Taxpayers not liable to tax therefore benefit from this measure.

Tax reductions currently listed in the CGI concern, for example, donations to charities and public interest bodies, the schooling costs of dependent children and subscription for the capital of SMEs.

Deductible tax credits are granted, for example, for childcare such as the cost of hiring a child minder, for sustainable development-related equipment and for home help.

The total benefit resulting from certain tax breaks exhaustively listed (deductions from total income, tax reductions and credits) has been capped. Thus, total tax breaks on the basis of expenditure or investments made in 2016 cannot represent a tax reduction of more than €10,000.

However, total tax breaks subject to the ordinary law cap, limited to €10,000, plus tax breaks due to investment overseas and/or subscriptions for the capital of "Sofica" financing companies for the cinema and audio-visual industries, are limited to an income tax reduction of €18,000.

In principle, the cap applies only to tax breaks granted in return for an investment or a service provided to the taxpayer. It does not apply to tax breaks linked to the taxpayer's personal situation (deduction of maintenance payments, tax breaks linked to dependency or disability) or to not-for-profit initiatives in the public interest (preservation of historic monuments, donations to the voluntary sector, sponsorship, etc.).

NB:

Taxpayers who are not domiciled in France and who are only liable to tax on their income from French sources are not entitled to deductions of expenses from total income. With certain exception, they are not entitled to the tax reductions or credits for taxpayers domiciled in France.

However, non-residents who receive the majority of their income from French sources (so-called "Schumacker non-residents") are treated in the same way as persons residing in France for tax purposes under domestic legislation, whilst having a limited tax obligation within the meaning of international tax treaties. For the calculation of their income tax, they can invoke expenses allowed as deductions from their overall income, tax reductions and credits.

Taxpayers are informed of their net income tax liability several months after filing their income tax return by means of a notice of assessment sent to their domicile.

Tax is generally paid in two advance instalments followed by the balance, though taxpayers may opt for monthly instalments. In the latter case, payment is made by monthly direct debit of one-tenth of the previous year's tax bill between January and October, the balance being paid in the last two months.

As from 1 January 2018, income tax will be withheld at source at the same time income is received. This system aims to modernise income tax collection. Payment of tax due for the current year will be made as and when taxpayers receive their income.

TEMPORARY LEVY ON TOP EARNERS

The wealthiest taxpayers have to pay a temporary levy, in addition to income tax, which is based on their reference taxable income (RFR).

Subject to the application of international treaties for the avoidance of double taxation, the following persons are liable to the temporary levy:

- taxpayers who are resident of France for tax purposes, who are liable to income tax and who have income from French or foreign sources that is part of their RFR;
- taxpayers who are not residents of France for tax purposes, who are liable to income tax in France and who have income from French sources that is part of their RFR.

The RFR covers the net amount of income and capital gains taken into account to calculate the income tax liability, plus certain expenses deductible from the taxable income, certain income and profits exempt from income tax or subject to a deferral or stay of taxation, certain allowances applied to determine the income category and income and profits subject to levies or payments discharging tax liability.

To calculate the RFR used as the basis for the levy, the entire amount of income eligible for the income tax income splitting system is taken into account, i.e. before income splitting.

The temporary levy on top earners is calculated by applying a rate of either 3% or 4% according to the following scale:

Portion of reference taxable income	Applicable rate
	Single, widowed, separated or divorced taxpayer	Married taxpayer or taxpayer in a civil union, taxed jointly
Less or equal to €250,000	0%	0%
Between €250,001 and €500,000	3%
Between €500,001 and €1,000,000	4%	3%

Portion of reference taxable income	Applicable rate
	Single, widowed, separated or divorced taxpayer	Married taxpayer or taxpayer in a civil union, taxed jointly
More than €1,000,000		4%

The levy has special income splitting arrangements to mitigate the taxation of taxpayers having income considered extraordinary owing to its amount.

The temporary levy on top earners is collected in the same manner as income tax. It is scheduled to remain in force until taxation of income for the year during which the general government deficit is reduced to zero.

In addition to income tax and the temporary levy on top earners, income received by persons domiciled in France is subject to additional levies introduced in recent years to supplement the funding of the social security system.

CHAPTER 3: SOCIAL LEVIES

Since its inception in 1945, the social security system has been financed mostly from contributions levied on earned income.

This arrangement distinguishes France from some of its European partners, which finance most social spending from tax.

However, in order to tackle social security funding problems and ensure that all income helps to finance social protection, supplementary levies of a tax nature were introduced to extend the range of resources.

They are the general social security contribution (contribution sociale généralisée, CSG), the social security debt repayment contribution (contribution pour le remboursement de la dette sociale, CRDS), and the 0.3% additional welfare contribution for elderly people living alone levied on retirement pensions (contribution additionnelle de solidarité pour l'autonomie, CASA).

In addition, they include a social levy of 4.5% on income from personal assets and investment products,<sup>45</sup> an additional contribution of 0.3%, and a 2% solidarity levy.

Thus, the overall rate of social security contributions on income from personal assets and investment products comes to 15.5%.

Only individuals resident in France for tax purposes are liable to pay social security levies on investment income.

Nevertheless, individuals resident outside France for tax purposes are liable to pay social security levies on investment income earned on property owned in France.

The biggest payers of corporation tax are liable to a 3.3% social contribution.

NB:

Since 2016, the proceeds from social security contributions on investment income, which had previously been paid to entities providing contributory benefits (i.e. the national health insurance fund, national family allowance office and national pension fund), have been reallocated to social security entities that provide only non-contributory benefits (i.e. the old age solidarity fund, social security debt redemption fund and national solidarity fund for autonomy). The purpose of this change<sup>46</sup> in budget allocation was to comply with EU law following a judgment of the European Court of Justice.<sup>47</sup> The Conseil d'Etat immediately aligned itself with this judgment.<sup>48</sup> Under this case law, social security contributions on investment income are governed by the EU Regulation on social security due to the way these contributions are allocated. Therefore, individuals affiliated to the social security regime of another EEA Member State or Switzerland are not liable to these contributions. Indeed, the proceeds of these social security contributions must be used to finance benefits for the beneficiaries of the French social security regime only. Taxpayers can therefore challenge taxes assessed on this basis.

Social security contributions on income from personal assets and investment income are due according to the rules given in Articles L. 136-6 and L. 136-7 of the Social Security Code. Thereafter, special collection methods for these contributions may be implemented, depending on the type of income.

Note that social security contributions on capital gains subject to tax deferral under Article 150-0 B ter CGI are assessed at the rate in force the year these capital gains were realised (see section II, Article 34 of the 2016 Supplementary Budget Act no. 2016-1918).

I – GENERAL SOCIAL SECURITY CONTRIBUTION

The general social security contribution (CSG) is a levy with a social purpose. Unlike social security contributions, which entitle those who pay them to benefits, the CSG is levied like any other tax without any direct benefit in return.

The contribution is levied on individuals who are domiciled in France for tax purposes.

The CSG tax base is very wide, since it is levied in principle on earned income, substitution income, income from personal assets and income from investments in fixed-income securities, whether they are taxed on the basis of personal income tax brackets, subject to the final withholding tax or exempt from personal income tax altogether.

CSG ON EARNED AND SUBSTITUTION INCOME

- Income from salaried employment and similar income

For income from salaried employment and similar income, the tax base comprises the gross amount of salaries and benefits in cash or in kind. 1.75% is deducted from this base for professional expenses, limited to four times the annual social security ceiling (PASS).<sup>49</sup>

CSG is deducted by the employer at source at a rate of 7.5%, of which 5.1% is deductible from the income tax base.

The employer pays the amount deducted at source to URSSAF, the body that collects social security contributions. Exceptionally, the CSG payable on employee shareholder income and on income from foreign sources is collected by the Public Finances Directorate General.

- Non-wage earned income

The CSG is also levied at the 7.5% rate on non-wage earned income and paid in advance in quarterly instalments.

---

<sup>49</sup> The amount of the annual social security ceiling is available on this website: <http://www.ameli.fr/employeurs/vos-demarches/chiffres-utiles/plafond-de-la-securite-sociale.php>.

- Substitution income

For substitution income, the rate is set at:

7.5% for early retirement benefits received by employees who have taken early retirement since 11 October 2007, 5.1% of which is deductible from the income tax base;

6.6% for pensions and disability benefits, 4.2% of which is deductible from the income tax base. This may be reduced to 3.8% (fully deductible from the income tax base) when the income is received by recipients whose taxable income does not exceed a certain threshold;<sup>50</sup> this is also the exemption limit for the welfare contribution for elderly people living alone levied on retirement pensions. Pensions and disability benefits are exempt from the CSG when the recipient's taxable income is below the exemption limit;<sup>51</sup> exemption from the CSG also means exemption from the CRDS;

- 6.2% for other substitution income (unemployment benefits, etc.), 3.8% of which is deductible from the income tax base. Recipients of unemployment benefit can benefit from this lower rate or be fully exempt from the CSG under the same conditions applicable to pensions and disability benefits. Daily social security allowances for sickness, maternity, work-related accidents and occupational illness are still subject to a rate of 6.2% regardless of how much the recipient earns.

The CSG on substitution income is generally levied at source by the organisation responsible for making these income payments.

CSG ON INCOME FROM PERSONAL ASSETS:

The CSG is levied on income from personal assets at 8.2%. The following are liable to the CSG:

- income from property;
- purchased life annuities;
- investment income other than income on which the CSG has been deducted at source (see "CSG on investment income" below);
- capital gains and profits liable to income tax, including long-term business capital gains and capital gains on transferable securities and shares;
- profits liable to income tax from industrial and commercial activities, agricultural activities and non-commercial profits not liable to pay CSG on earned and substitution income;
- income of indeterminate origin subject to estimated assessment and other amounts subject to estimated assessment for non-production or late production of the tax return;
- any other sources of income taxable in France on the basis of an international treaty which have not been subject to CSG on earned and substitution income.

The CSG is levied on the net amount used to determine the income tax liability.

Nevertheless, CSG is levied on the gross amount of investment income, i.e. prior to the deduction of expenses incurred for acquiring or keeping the income and the 40% allowance. Income from capitalisation bonds or life insurance policies of eight years or more are taxed before application of the lump-sum allowance of €4,600 or €9,200.

Similarly, capital gains on transferable securities and shares are taxed before any length-of-ownership deduction.

Generally speaking, the CSG is assessed, verified and collected in the same way as income tax.

5.1% of the CSG on income from personal assets, except for capital gains liable to income tax at a proportional rate, is deductible from taxable income in the year it is paid.

An upper limit is placed on the CSG deductible in relation to net gains on disposals of transferable securities and shares that benefit from a lump-sum allowance in favour of retiring managing directors in keeping with the taxable amount of each gain.

CSG ON INVESTMENT INCOME:

Income from fixed-income investments, together with dividends and similar income (with the exception of those received within the framework of a PEA equity savings plan) are liable to the CSG on investment income at 8.2%:

- where they are liable to income tax at progressive rates and the payer of the income or revenue is established in France;
- where they are exempt from income tax (with the exception of certain regulated tax-free savings products, namely Livret A, Livret d'Épargne Populaire, Livret de Développement Durable, Livret Jeune and Livret d'Épargne Entreprise savings accounts, reimbursement bonuses and premiums);
- where they are liable to withholding tax in full discharge of tax liability as per the 2013 Budget Act (see Chapter 2, Section 1).

The CSG on investment income is also payable on capital gains on real property and on certain movables liable to income tax at a proportional rate upon disposal.

The CSG is deducted at source, generally, in the case of fixed-interest investment income and distributed income, by the payer. In the case of tax-exempt products, the deduction is made in principle on payment of the income to the debtor or to the intermediary who pays the income in question and is then responsible for paying the amounts to the State.

The CSG on capital gains on property and certain movables is collected at the same time as the withholding tax in discharge of income tax on the capital gain.

The social security contributions base for capital gains on disposals of property other than building plots and related construction rights, liable to CSG and other social levies<sup>52</sup>, is determined through the application of a different length-of-ownership deduction to that applied to determine the tax base. 1.65% is deducted for each year of ownership after the fifth year up to the 21st; it falls to 1.60% for the 22nd year and is then raised to 9% for each year after the 22nd. In total, the exemption from social levies is acquired over a 30-year period (rather than 22 for income tax).

For capital gains on disposals of building plots, the social security contributions base is equal to the tax base. After 30 years, the applicable length-of-ownership deduction renders these gains exempt from both income tax and social security contributions.

5.1% of the CSG paid on income from fixed-income investments and distributed income liable to income tax at progressive rates can be deducted from taxable income in the year in which it is paid.

The rate of CSG deductible from investment income gains is therefore in line with the rate of CSG deductible from earned income to bring the taxation of investment income into line with that of earned income<sup>53</sup>.

The CSG yielded €95.06 billion in 2015.

<sup>52</sup> The social security debt repayment contribution (CRDS) at a rate of 0.5%; the social levy at a rate of 4.5%, the surcharge at a rate of 0.3% and the solidarity levy at a rate of 2%.

<sup>53</sup> Since 2013 Budget Act No. 2012-1509 of 29 December 2012.

II – SOCIAL SECURITY DEBT REPAYMENT CONTRIBUTION

Like the CSG, it is payable by individuals who are domiciled in France for tax purposes and, where earned or substitution income is concerned, who contribute in any capacity whatsoever to a French compulsory health insurance scheme.

The rate is 0.5%. The tax base is slightly wider than that of the CSG, since certain categories of income exempt from the CSG, such as family allowances and housing benefits, are liable to the CRDS.

The CRDS is collected in the same way as the CSG, with the exception of the contribution on earned and substitution income from foreign sources collected by individual assessment. The CRDS is not deductible from the income tax base.

It yielded €6.85 billion in 2015.

III – 4.5% SOCIAL LEVY AND OTHER ADDITIONAL LEVIES

The social levy for income from personal assets and investment income is set at a rate of 4.5%.<sup>54</sup>

The additional contribution on income from personal assets and investment income is set at 0.3%.

The base and collection methods for both are identical to those of the CSG due on income from personal assets and investment income.

The 4.5% social levy and additional contribution of 0.3% are not deductible from total income liable to income tax.

IV – SOLIDARITY LEVY OF 2%

A solidarity levy of 2%<sup>55</sup> is levied on income from personal assets and investment income.

The base and collection methods are identical to those of the CSG due on income from personal assets and investment income.

The solidarity levy is not deductible from total income liable to income tax.

Total social levies on investment income and income from personal assets (income from property, capital gains on disposals of securities, purchase life annuities, etc.) stand at 15.5%.

V – EMPLOYEE CONTRIBUTION ON GAINS FROM EXERCISING STOCK OPTIONS AND ACQUIRING BONUS SHARES

Gains from exercising stock options and acquiring bonus shares allocated since 16 October 2007 are liable to an employee contribution when the beneficiary is affiliated to a compulsory health insurance scheme.

As an exception, this contribution is not due on vesting gains on bonus shares authorised by a decision of an extraordinary general meeting of shareholders:

- from 8 August 2015 to 30 December 2016.<sup>56</sup>

- as from 31 December 2016, only for the portion of such gains not exceeding an annual limit of €300,000.<sup>57</sup>

<sup>54</sup> The social levy was raised from 3.4% to 5.4% by the first 2012 Supplementary Budget Act then cut to 4.5% by Article 3 of the 2013 Social Security Financing Act, i.e. a 0.9 point reduction.

The employee contribution is set at 10% for gains from exercising stock options or acquiring shares as from 18 August 2012. It is payable in relation to the year the disposals were made.

This contribution is not deductible from the income tax base.

The employee contribution is verified, collected and payable under the same conditions, and is subject to the same penalties as those for the CSG on income from personal assets (see Section I above).

VI – EMPLOYEE CONTRIBUTION APPLICABLE TO CERTAIN PAYMENTS AND GAINS ON CARRIED INTEREST UNITS OR SHARES

A specific employee contribution of 30% is levied on payments or gains on carried interest units or shares in venture capital mutual investment funds, venture capital companies and European private equity funds when these payments or gains are liable to income tax in accordance with the rules applying to wages and salaries.

This contribution discharges the beneficiary from paying any other contribution or social levy.

The base and collection methods are identical to those of the CSG due on income from personal assets.

VII – CONTRIBUTION FROM BENEFICIARIES OF TOP HAT PENSION SCHEMES (RETRAITES CHAPEAUX)

Annuities paid to beneficiaries of supplementary defined benefit pension plans <sup>58</sup>(or “top hat” pension schemes) are liable to a specific social contribution, payable by the beneficiary (Social Security Code, Art. L. 137-11-1).

This contribution, whose calculation method and rate<sup>59</sup> vary on the basis of the annuities received and the liquidation date, is deductible from the income tax base up to the portion paid on the first €1,000 of monthly annuity (Art. 83 2<sup>e</sup> 0 quater CGI).

VIII – SOCIAL CONTRIBUTION ON CORPORATE INCOME TAX

In addition, corporation tax payers are liable to a social contribution equal to 3.3% of the tax assessed on their taxable profits at the standard rate (33 $\frac{1}{3}$ %) and at certain reduced rates, minus relief that may not exceed €763,000 per twelve-month period.

Corporation tax payers with turnover of less than €7,630,000, at least 75% of whose fully paid-up capital has been held continuously by individuals or a company meeting the same conditions, are exempt from the contribution.

The social contribution is collected in the same way as corporation tax and with the same guarantees and sanctions. It must be paid voluntarily by bank transfer at the latest on the date on which the outstanding balance of corporation tax is paid. Four instalments are owed, at the same dates as corporation tax instalments, before payment of the final balance.

The social contribution on corporation tax is not a deductible expense for the purposes of calculating the assessment base for corporation tax.

It yielded €1.2 billion in 2015.

<sup>57</sup> Article 61 of the 2017 Budget Act no. 2016-1917 of 29 December 2016.

<sup>58</sup> Plans constituting rights to pension entitlements when the beneficiary’s career in the company is complete; the employer’s contribution cannot be split on an individual employee basis.

<sup>59</sup> Exemption of €400 or €500, then progressive rate with two brackets (7% and 14%).

IX – CORPORATE SOCIAL SOLIDARITY CONTRIBUTION

Legal entities engaged in an economic activity in the competitive sector that generate turnover excluding VAT of at least €19,000,000<sup>60</sup> are required to pay a social solidarity contribution (contribution sociale de solidarité des sociétés, C3S) intended to finance the social protection of self-employed workers.

The rate of contributions is 0.16% (0.13% for the corporate social solidarity contribution and 0.03% for the additional contribution) of turnover, minus any deductions.

The C3S and the additional contribution must be declared and paid to the national fund of the social security scheme for the self-employed (RSI).

The 2016 Supplementary Budget Act<sup>61</sup> created a C3S surcharge for companies in existence as of 1 January of the tax year and whose turnover in the previous tax year was €1 billion or more. This surcharge is deducted from the amount of C3S due the following year. It is assessed at a rate of 0.04% of turnover for the year the tax is due.

In 2015, the C3S yielded €4.39 billion and the additional contribution €250 million.

CHAPTER 4: PAYROLL TAXES

The main payroll taxes are the wage tax, the apprenticeship tax and employers' contributions to the development of continuous vocational training and to construction.

Only the wage tax is considered within the scope of this handbook.

The wage tax is payable by employers established in France who are not liable to VAT or were not liable to VAT on at least 90% of their turnover for the calendar year prior to that when the wages were paid.

The taxpayers are mainly banks and insurance companies, the medical and paramedical sector, associations and other non-profit bodies.

In order to cut red tape for "micro-enterprises", the wages paid by employers whose annual turnover does not exceed the thresholds for dispensation from VAT, are exempt from the wage tax.

Turnover is determined in light of all receipts and other revenue, including those not liable to VAT (particularly dividends and subsidies).

The wage tax base is in line with that of the CSG applied to salaries and similar sources of income in accordance with the rules outlined in Article L.136-2 of the Social Security Code. The wage tax is levied on amounts paid as remuneration and expenses, miscellaneous benefits and bonuses including benefits in kind or cash benefits paid to employees in return for their work and effectively allocated during the calendar year. The wage tax base therefore includes profit sharing and employee incentive plans, employers' contributions to company savings plans and towards funding supplementary pension schemes and complementary health insurance plans. The exemptions from CSG specifically provided for in section III, Article L.136-2 of the Social Security Code apply to the wage tax. The lump-sum deduction of 1.75% for business expenses applicable as part of the CSG is not applicable to determine the wage tax base.

In contrast, remuneration corresponding to social security payments paid by employers, which are assessed in accordance with the rules outlined in Article L. 136-2 of the Social Security Code, is not included in the wage tax base.

The benefits mentioned (stock options and free share allocations) are not subject to the tax.

The tax base is calculated by multiplying the total taxable wages (within the meaning of social security regulations) by the ratio between the turnover not liable to VAT and total turnover for the year prior to their payment.

This tax liability ratio is calculated as follows:

- by numerator, the turnover which was not liable to VAT and which covers all receipts (particularly, subsidies not liable to VAT, except infrastructure subsidies and "extraordinary subsidies") and other revenue which did not provide entitlement to VAT deductions, thus including that relating to transactions not liable to VAT;
- by denominator, the total turnover, which covers all receipts and other revenue collected by the employer, regardless of the origin and classification and which also includes receipts and revenue relating to transactions not liable to VAT.

The wage tax is assessed annually by applying a progressive scale by bands to the amount of gross wages paid to each employee. The bands are as follows:

Annual individual wages	Rate applicable portion less than or equal to €7,721	4.25%
portion greater than €7,721 and less than or equal to €15,547	8.50%
portion greater than €15,417 and less than or equal to €152,279	13.60%
portion greater than €152,279	20%

The 2017 Budget Act<sup>62</sup> extended the benefit of the wage tax allowance, previously applicable to associations governed by the Associations Act of 1 July 1901, to trade unions, groups of trade unions, mutual societies with fewer than 30 employees, public interest foundations, cancer organisations, and mutual societies governed by Book III of the Mutuality Code with 30 employees or more. The allowance is €20,304.

The legal entities eligible for this allowance receive a wage tax credit based on the remuneration (up to a certain limit) that they pay to their employees over a calendar year.

Lastly, the Budget Bill for 2017<sup>63</sup> created a tax exemption on salaries for inbound assignees (“impatriates”) hired by a company established in France and who began their assignment in France on or after 6 July 2016. A portion of remuneration related to their assignment in France is exempt from income tax.

Taxpayers pay the tax voluntarily on a monthly, quarterly or annual basis<sup>64</sup>. An annual summary return must be filed at the latest on 15 January of the following year so that the amount of tax due can be adjusted.<sup>65</sup> Taxpayers whose annual wage tax bill does not exceed €1,200 or the amount of relief are not required to file a return.

The wage tax is deductible from the base of the tax on profits (personal income tax or corporation tax).

<sup>64</sup> Decree 2121-1464 of 26 December 2012 adjusted the declaration threshold for companies subject to the wage tax from €1,000 to €4,000 for the annual declaration and from €4,000 to €10,000 for the quarterly declaration.

<sup>65</sup> Where employers liable to the wage tax make an annual payment, the return (which is the only reporting obligation) is accompanied by the total amount of tax due.

PART II: TAXES ON EXPENDITURE

Taxes on expenditure are levied on household and business consumption and investment.

Taxes on expenditure traditionally took the form of indirect consumption duties, circulation duties and customs duties.

The introduction of VAT and its widespread application have considerably reduced the scope of such indirect taxes and hence the revenue they raise, although one of them, the domestic tax on energy products, still yields significant amounts.

CHAPTER 1: VALUE ADDED TAX

In order to create a single market between EU Member States, a number of VAT directives have been issued since 1967 which Member States have had to enact into their domestic law. Rules on the scope, tax base, liability for the tax, territoriality of the supply of goods and service provision and reporting requirements have been harmonised. Member States may apply transitional provisions relating to rates, exemptions and deduction entitlements.

I – CHARACTERISTICS OF VAT

A. VAT IS A TERRITORIAL TAX

VAT is a general consumption tax levied on all goods supplied and services provided in France.

The territory in which VAT applies includes continental France, Corsica, the Principality of Monaco, territorial waters, the continental shelf and the départements of Guadeloupe, Martinique and La Réunion. However, the three overseas départements are deemed export territories with regard to metropolitan France, in the same way as third countries. VAT is temporarily not applicable in the départements of French Guiana and Mayotte.

Supplies of tangible movable goods are deemed to be made in France where the good is situated in France:

- At the time of shipment or transport by the seller or the buyer or by another party on their behalf to the buyer
- On assembly or installation by the seller or on the seller's behalf
- When it is made available to the buyer, if it is not shipped or transported
- At the time of departure of a transport, the place of arrival of which is on the territory of another Member State of the European Community, in cases where delivery, during such transport, is made on board a boat, an aircraft or a train

The place where a service is provided is deemed to be in France where the customer is liable to the tax, acts as such and has the registered office of his business or a permanent establishment to which the service is provided or, failing that, his domicile or usual home in France. Moreover, the place where a service is provided to persons not liable to the tax is in France when the service provider has the registered office of his business or a permanent establishment from which the service is provided or, failing that, his domicile or usual home in France.

However, where services are not taxed following the application of these principles in the place where they are actually used, there are derogations to ensure such taxation. For example, some services are taxed in the location of the building to which they relate (accommodation, services related to real property as defined in Article 13 ter of EU Directive 2006/112/EC, in force since 1 January 2017, works on property, etc.), some in the location where they are physically provided (catering, cultural and sporting services, etc.), and some in other more specific locations such as the place where the means of transport is provided to the customer in the case of short-term vehicle rentals.

Since 1 January 2015, telecommunications, broadcasting and electronic services are subject to VAT in the Member State where the non-taxable consumer resides.

As a result, the supplier must declare and pay VAT in each Member State where services are consumed.

The supplier of telecommunications, broadcasting or electronic services may pay VAT due on these services through a VAT Mini One Stop Shop (MOSS) provided by the Member State in which it is established. This arrangement enables suppliers to avoid VAT registration in each Member State where their services are consumed.

Foreign trade transactions (exports of tangible goods and similar supplies, provision of services relating to international trade in goods or transactions relating to ships and aircraft, intra-Community supplies and similar transactions) are generally exempt from VAT under certain conditions. However, taxpayers who carry out such transactions are entitled to deduct the VAT they have paid on the purchase of goods and services used in such transactions.

Intra-Community imports and acquisitions and similar transactions are in principle liable to VAT in France if that is where the transaction takes place.

B. VAT IS A REAL TAX

Liability to VAT is determined by the type of the transactions or products concerned, regardless of the personal situation of the liable person or customer.

Accordingly, VAT is levied on goods supplied and services provided:

- In the context of an economic activity (whatever the type)
- For valuable consideration
- By a liable person, i.e. a person independently performing transactions that fall within the scope of VAT

Activities carried on by legal entities governed by public law in their capacity as public authorities fall outside the scope of VAT except where non-liability leads to a distortion of competition.

Various exemptions exist, including:

- Teaching
- Medical and paramedical activities and hospital care and medical treatment costs
- Public interest organisations
- Insurance and reinsurance and the provision of related services
- Some banking operations (the granting and negotiation of credit, the grantor's management of credit, the negotiation and assumption of commitments, guarantees and other forms of security interest, the management of credit guarantees by the grantor of the credit, etc.)

Voluntary taxation is available as an option for some exempted activities, such as the letting of undeveloped real property for business use, the letting of rural property, banking and financial transactions normally exempt from VAT, etc.

C. VAT IS AN INDIRECT TAX PAID IN FRACTIONS

VAT is finally borne by the end-user since it is included in the sale price of products or services. Each intermediary (manufacturer, retailer, etc.) collects the tax provided for by law from the customer and pays it on to his local tax office, minus the VAT on inputs paid to his own supplier. VAT is a tax on value added, i.e. the value added to the product or service at each stage of production or marketing, such that at the end of the economic chain through which the good or service reaches the buyer, whatever its length, the overall tax burden corresponds to the tax calculated on the final sale price to the consumer.

D. VAT IS A PROPORTIONAL TAX

VAT is calculated by applying a proportional rate to the base amount of the transaction (free of VAT), whatever that amount may be.

II – TAX BASE

For the supply of goods, the provision of services and acquisitions within the EU, the tax base consists of all the sums, valuables, goods or services received or to be received by the supplier or service provider in return for them from the buyer, the customer or a third party, including subsidies directly linked to the price of such transactions.

Accordingly, in addition to the agreed price, the tax base includes all taxes, duties and levies of any kind except VAT itself and all incidental expenses. Such expenses include transport, insurance, packaging, etc.

Conversely, the taxable price does not include price reductions (cash discounts, rebates, etc. granted directly to the customer) or amounts refunded to intermediaries who incur expenses on their principals' behalf, insofar as the intermediaries are accountable to their principals, enter such expenses in suspense accounts in their books and justify the nature or exact amount of such outlays to the tax authorities.

The tax base for imports is the value defined by customs law in accordance with the prevailing EU rules. As with domestic goods and services, however, the tax base must include duties, taxes and levies, excluding discounts, rebates and other reductions, plus incidental expenses (commission, packaging, transport and insurance) to the destination point and expenses arising from transport to another destination point within the EU, if known when the taxable event occurs.

Taxable persons are dispensed from paying VAT if their turnover during the preceding calendar year did not exceed:

- €82,800 excluding VAT for supplies of goods, sales of food and drink to be consumed on the premises or accommodation services (€91,000 where turnover in the year before that did not exceed €82,800);
- €33,200 excluding VAT for other services (€35,200 where turnover in the year before that did not exceed €33,200).

Special rules apply for activities falling into the two categories mentioned above. There is also a €42,900 (excluding VAT) exemption limit for authors, artists, performers and solicitors.

Persons eligible for dispensation may elect to waive their right and opt to pay VAT.

III – CALCULATING THE AMOUNT OF VAT

In order to determine how much they should pay, liable persons deduct VAT paid on the purchase of goods and services used to perform the transactions liable to VAT from their taxable turnover.

A. CALCULATING GROSS VAT

The amount of gross VAT is calculated by multiplying the net amount of the sale or provision of service (i.e. the amount excluding VAT) by the rate applicable to the transaction concerned.

The four rates are:

① The standard rate, which has been 20% since 1 January 2014. The standard rate applies to all transactions not expressly subject to another rate.

② The reduced rate of 10% has applied since 1 January 2014. It covers mainly passenger transport, certain shows, games and entertainment, certain services to individuals, medicinal products not reimbursed by social security, accommodation in hotels, furnished apartments or classified campsites, sales of food and drink for immediate or on-site consumption, including canteens (except school canteens), unprocessed agricultural, fishery and poultry products not destined for human consumption<sup>66</sup> or farm production, products for use in organic agriculture, and new middle-income social housing.

The 10% rate is also applied to improvements, conversions and maintenance work on residential premises more than two years old, except for the portion corresponding to the supply of certain large items of equipment.

③ The reduced rate of 5.5% applies primarily to the following products and services:

- Water and non-alcoholic beverages, as well as foodstuffs for human consumption
- Special devices and equipment for disabled persons, lifts and similar equipment designed for disabled persons that comply with specific characteristics, as well as feminine hygiene products
- Contracts for the delivery of low voltage electricity, heating and fuel gas distributed via grids, and heating supplies when at least 50% is generated from renewable energy sources
- Room and board in retirement homes and residences for disabled persons, as well as services for frail individuals
- Books via any type of medium, including downloaded, and live shows (with the exception of shows given in establishments where consumption during the show is commonplace)
- Cinema tickets and tickets for films shown during screenings of a non-commercial nature or at cinema festivals
- Deliveries of works of art by the artist or successor(s),<sup>67</sup> imports and certain intra-community acquisitions of works of art, collectable items or antiques
- Energy renovations of residential premises completed more than two years ago and related work
- Delivery or construction of social housing and certain social housing renovations and related work
- Entry fees received by organisers of sporting events<sup>68</sup>

A specific 2.1% rate charged in particular on print and online press publications, as well as and medical drugs reimbursed by social security.

NB: Special rates apply in the overseas départements (Guadeloupe, Martinique, La Réunion) and in Corsica.

B. OFFSETTING THE TAX ON INPUTS

Except where expressly provided otherwise (e.g. expenditure on accommodation, passenger transport, etc.), VAT invoiced to liable persons by their suppliers on acquired goods and services (purchases, overheads, capital expenditure) used to perform transactions liable to VAT or exempt from VAT but giving entitlement to a deduction (foreign trade transactions) is deducted from gross VAT.

Taxpayers themselves determine the total amount of VAT to be paid.

If the difference between gross tax and input tax is negative, liable persons will generally offset the surplus against their future tax liability, though they may ask for a refund under certain conditions.

Liable persons based in other countries may under certain conditions obtain a refund of VAT charged on goods purchased or imported and services provided in France under the procedure provided for in Directive 2008/9/EC of 12 February 2008 (taxable persons established in an EU Member State) or the Thirteenth Council Directive 86/560/EEC of 17 November 1986 (taxable persons not established in an EU Member State).

IV – OBLIGATIONS ON LIABLE PERSONS

Liability to VAT entails the following obligations:

- Reporting the existence, identification or discontinuation of an activity
- Keeping itemised accounts supported by vouchers or a special ledger
- Issuing invoices showing the price excluding VAT, the rate, the amount of VAT and the VAT identification number of the seller or service provider and, for certain intra-Community transactions, that of the buyer or customer
- Filing monthly or quarterly turnover returns, depending on the annual amount of tax payable

A reverse charge procedure for import VAT was introduced as from 1 January 2015. This procedure allows certain taxpayers to declare and deduct VAT owed on import transactions on their turnover return filed with the tax authorities, as a departure from the principle of declaring and paying this tax to Customs.

Initially, the reverse charge procedure concerned only taxpayers liable to VAT, located in the European Union and authorised to use a clearance procedure with single domicile (PDU), as well as taxpayers located outside the European Union if their Customs representative had PDU authorisation.

Since 1 January 2017,<sup>69</sup> an authorisation procedure has replaced the previous opt-in procedure, and the requirement of PDU authorisation for the Customs representatives of non-EU importers has been repealed. This new procedure extends the principle of reverse charge for import VAT to taxpayers with Authorised Economic Operator (OEA) status and to those that do not have OEA status but can offer comparable guarantees.

- Filing European Sales Lists for goods and services for certain intra-Community transactions for statistical and tax purposes
- Voluntarily paying the tax to the Business tax service (service des impôts des entreprises, SIE) on submitting the turnover return or in instalments paid in advance.

These obligations are reduced for liable persons exempt from VAT.

V – SPECIAL RULES

There are also numerous sets of special rules that take into account the particular conditions for the exercise of certain activities, such as banking and financial services, investment gold transactions and travel agencies.

In 2015, VAT yielded €141.5 billion.

CHAPTER 2: EXCISE DUTIES

Directive 2008/118/EC of 16 December 2008, Directives 92/83/EC and 92/84/EC (alcohol), Directives 92/79/EC, 92/80/EC and 95/59/EC (tobacco) and Directive 2003/96/EC (energy products) have partly harmonised indirect taxes (excise duties) at Community level.

The harmonisation relates to energy products, alcoholic products and tobacco products. The new system was enacted into French law as from 1 January 1993.

Other products remain subject to national rules.

I – TAXATION OF ALCOHOL AND ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

For tax purposes, alcoholic beverages are drinks with alcohol by volume (ABV) of 1.2% or more (0.5% for beer).

THERE ARE FOUR INDIRECT TAXES ON ALCOHOL AND ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES, CONCERNING:

- Alcohols (with ABV 1.2%), along with alcoholic beverages and spirits that do not fall into another category (wine, beer, intermediate products), are subject to consumption duty calculated on the basis of the volume of pure alcohol contained in these products, expressed in hectolitres (hL). The duty yielded €2.23 billion in 2015. This consumption duty is set at €1,736.56/hL of pure alcohol, with the exception of rum produced in the overseas départements, for which the duty is set at €869.27/hL of pure alcohol. For public health reasons, alcoholic beverages with more than 18% ABV are liable to a special levy which yielded €728 million in 2015.
- Intermediate products (i.e. alcoholic beverages with an ABV of more than 1.2% but less than 22%) are subject to a consumption duty. These intermediate products notably include fortified wines, liqueur wines and wine-based aperitifs. Duty is assessed on the volume of finished product expressed in hectolitres (hL). In 2017, this consumption duty stood at €188.41/hL of finished product. However, for natural sweet wines and Protected Designation of Origin liqueur wines, the duty is set at €47.11/hL. The duty yielded €73 million in 2015.
- Still and sparkling wines with between 1.2% and 15% ABV, and whose alcohol content is entirely derived from fermentation, are subject to circulation duty. This duty also applies to non-fortified wines with between 15% and 18% ABV, whose alcohol content is entirely derived from fermentation. In addition, it applies to all fermented beverages other than wine or beer with between 1.2% and 15% ABV. Duty is assessed on the volume of finished product expressed in hectolitres (hL). In 2017, circulation duty is set at €3.77/hL of finished product for still wines and for fermented beverages other than wine and beer, at €9.33/hL for sparkling wines, and at €1.33/hL for cider, perry and mead. The duty yielded €123 million in 2015.
- Beers with ABV above 0.5% are subject to a special duty. This duty is assessed based on the alcohol content and volume of finished product. This special duty is set at €7.41/hL and per percent of alcohol for beers with ABV above 2.8% and at €3.70/hL and per percent of alcohol for beers with ABV below 2.8%. For small brewers producing beers with ABV above 2.8% and whose production capacity does not exceed 200,000 hL, the duty is assessed at €3.70/hL.

The special duty, which also applies to non-alcoholic beverages, yielded €934 million in 2016 and is expected to yield the same amount in 2017.

Consumption and circulation duty are calculated when the products are made available for consumption. Any person trading in spirits, alcohol-based products and alcoholic beverages must also comply with specific economic regulations.

These duties have been entirely allocated to the welfare scheme for non-salaried farmers.

II – TAXES ON SUGARY AND ARTIFICIALLY SWEETENED DRINKS

Certain beverages containing added sugar or artificial sweeteners are subject to a specific tax.

The following are exempt from the tax on drinks containing added sugar: infant formula and follow-on milk, milk to promote growth and enteral nutrition products for the sick. The following are exempt from the tax on artificially sweetened drinks: foodstuffs for specific medical purposes and high-protein foods reserved for the undernourished.

The entire yield from both taxes is paid to social security funds.

In 2017, both taxes were set at €7.53 per hectolitre.

These two taxes yielded €378 million in 2015.

III – DOMESTIC CONSUMPTION TAX ON ENERGY PRODUCTS

Energy products (petroleum products, natural gas, coal) are liable to the following indirect taxes: the domestic consumption tax on energy products (taxe intérieure de consommation sur les produits énergétiques, TICPE), calculated on volumes or bulk quantities (euros per hectolitre, for example for fuels like diesel and unleaded petrol), the domestic consumption tax on natural gas (taxe intérieure de consommation sur le gaz naturel, TICGN), the domestic consumption tax on coal (taxe intérieure de consommation sur les charbons, TICC) and the domestic consumption tax on electricity, also referred to as the contribution to the cost of public service in electricity (contribution au service public de l'électricité, CSPE). All these products are also liable to VAT. Domestic consumption taxes are included in the tax base for products liable to VAT.

TICPE is determined according to the physical characteristics of the taxed petroleum products.

The tax rate for each product is established by legislation. It takes into account the carbon content of each product so that it can automatically increase based on a carbon price per ton of €7 in 2014, €145 in 2015, €22 in 2016 and €30.50 in 2017.

TICPE applies only in metropolitan France (continental France and Corsica) and does not apply in the overseas départements and territorial units.<sup>70</sup>

As from 1 January 2017, regions no longer have the right to adjust the rate for the portion of TICPE that is allocated to them. Each region now receives a grant of a portion of the fuel taxes from fuels sold to final consumers in the region. This grant amounts to €1.77 per hectolitre (hL) for super fuels and €1.15/hL for diesel.

Regional councils are also entitled to increase the domestic consumption tax on fuel sold to end consumers if the receipts are entirely allocated to funding a sustainable transport infrastructure or rail infrastructure as set forth in Articles 11 and 12 of the Grenelle 1 Act, or to funding improvements in the urban transport network of the Île-de-France region.<sup>71</sup>

Furthermore, as from 1 January 2017, the STIF (the public transport organising authority for the Île-de-France region) can decide to increase the TICPE applicable to fuels sold to final consumers in the Île-de-France region.

Domestic consumption taxes are collected by General Directorate of Customs and Excise (DGDDI) when the products are made available for consumption on the domestic market.

They yielded €28.34 billion in 2016 (including €1588 billion allocated to the government).

IV – DUTY ON TOBACCO PRODUCTS

Manufactured tobacco products, namely cigarettes, cigars and cigarillos, rolling tobacco and other smoking tobacco, are subject to consumption duty payable when they are released for consumption. The consumption duty is comprised of two parts: an ad valorem duty calculated on the retail selling price of the tobacco products, and a specific duty calculated per unit or weight of the product (1,000 cigarettes or 1,000 grams for other products).

The duty, the revenue from which is paid to various social security organisations, yielded €11.42 billion in 2015.

V – DUTY ON PRECIOUS METALS

The State guarantees the fineness of gold, silver and platinum materials by hallmarking them in return for the payment of duty. The rate varies according to the nature and content of the precious metal used. The taxable event is the release of the products concerned onto the market.

The duty yielded €73.33 million in 2015.

VI – GENERAL TAX ON POLLUTING ACTIVITIES

Introduced by the Budget Act for 1999, the general tax on polluting activities (taxe générale sur les activités polluantes, TGAP) was created by pooling existing taxes and mandatory levies allocated to the environment and energy management agency, ADEME.

It was created as an incentive to environmental protection on the basis of the “polluter pays” principle, whereby harm caused to the environment is liable to a specific tax intended as a disincentive to polluting activities by making them more expensive.

The TGAP applies to the following taxable events: the storage and disposal of household and special industrial waste; atmospheric emissions of pollutants; the operation of classified facilities presenting specific environmental risks; the release for consumption of certain lubricants, detergents and mined or quarried materials, and fossil fuels. A specific tax base and rate applies to each category.

Persons liable to the TGAP are required to voluntarily<sup>72</sup> declare the amount of tax payable and make advance payments,<sup>73</sup> with the balance being determined when the declaration is filed. The tax is collected and controlled by the General Directorate of Customs and Excise, except for the TGAP

relating to classified facilities, which is collected by the authorities responsible for inspecting such facilities.

The TGAP yielded €726 million in 2015, with €449 million being allocated to ADEME.

PART III: TAXES ON ASSETS

Assets may be taxed when transferred for valuable consideration (sale) or without valuable consideration (gift, inheritance). In these cases, the tax generally takes the form of registration duty.

Assets may also be taxed by the fact of their ownership. In that case they are liable to an annual tax on their total value, in the form of wealth tax and property tax, the latter being assessed on real property only. As a local tax, property tax is considered in Part IV.

Assets may also be liable to capital gains tax on disposal. As capital gains constitute income, their tax treatment is considered in Part I (taxes on income) of this handbook.

CHAPTER 1: REGISTRATION DUTIES

I – REGISTRATION FORMALITY

Traditionally, the registration formality involves a civil servant analysing a deed and assessing and collecting the duties provided for by law. Taxation is therefore a primary purpose, but registration also has civil consequences since it gives the deed a legal date and, in certain cases, is a condition of its validity.

Civil registration may be combined with the property registration formality whereby transfers of real property are made a matter of public record. The combined registration formality most commonly applies to deeds relating to the sale of real property or real property rights<sup>74</sup>.

In principle, tax is assessed on the market value of the assets at the date of the deed or transfer, as expressed in the deed or in the estimated value declaration filled out by the parties and controlled by the authorities. The market value of an asset corresponds to the price at which it could be sold or bought under market conditions.

Registration duties may be fixed, proportional or progressive depending on the type of deed or legal transaction subject to the formality.

Fixed duties are constant for all deeds in a given category or not liable to proportional or progressive duties. They apply to judicial documents (criminal orders, court judgments), extrajudicial documents (drawn up by legal officers, auctioneers and valuers, gendarmes) and certain deeds liable to fixed duty, the amount of which varies according to the nature of the taxable transaction (innominate deeds, notarised deeds, divorces).

Proportional duties represent a constant percentage of the value of the assets that are the subject of legal deeds or transactions. They apply mainly to sales of real property, certain corporate transactions and insurance policies.

Progressive duties are those whose rate increases with the value of the assets concerned. They apply in particular to transfers without valuable consideration.

In principle, duty is paid when deeds are presented for registration. In some cases, however, payment may be made by instalments or deferred. Duty on transfers without valuable consideration (duty owed when deeds of gift or declarations of estate are filed) may in some cases be paid in the form of art works handed over to the State, subject to ministerial approval.

The tax normally accrues to the State, but départements and communes receive some of the revenue from duty on sales of real property.

In 2015, registration duties yielded €20.8 billion for the government.

II – MAIN REGISTRATION DUTIES

A. SALE OF REAL PROPERTY

A proportional duty is levied on sales of real property, in principle subject to the combined formality, comprising the following elements:

- land registration tax, which accrues to the département and is calculated in principle at a single 3.8% rate. Départements may adjust the rate, though it may not be less than 1.20% or more than 4.50% for transfers occurring on or after 1 March 2016.
- An additional 1.2% tax that accrues to communes or departmental equalisation funds<sup>75</sup>
- A 2.37% levy on the amount of the duty that accrues to the département, charged by the State for "assessment and collection costs"

Acquisitions made by the State or by its scientific, educational, assistance or charitable establishments or by local authorities are exempt from all transfer duty.

B. TRANSFERS OF BUSINESSES AND SIMILAR TRANSFERS

Transfer duties comprise a duty accruing to the State plus a tax for the département and a tax for the commune.

The following table gives a breakdown<sup>76</sup>:

Fraction of the taxable value	Government	Département	Commune	Aggregate
up to €23,000	0%	0%	0%	0%
between €23,000 and €107,000	2%	0.60%	0.40%	3%
between €107,001 and €200,000	0.60%	1.40%	1%	3%
over €200,000	2.60%	1.40%	1%	5%

For business premises located in the Île-de-France region, an additional registration duty of 0.6% is applied.

Special rates apply to transfers of businesses in certain priority areas for regional development.

C. REGISTRATION DUTIES APPLICABLE TO COMPANIES

Companies are liable to registration duties on incorporation, on the occurrence of certain events during their lifetime and on dissolution, and when shareholders sell their shares.

INCORPORATION

The creation of a company implies the contribution to the company of assets distinct from those of the shareholders.

Contributions made in exchange for shares fully exposed to the risks of the undertaking are in principle exempt from registration duty.

However, a contribution made by a person not liable to corporation tax to a legal entity liable to corporation tax is treated in the same way as a transfer for valuable consideration:

- In this case: Where the contribution concerns real property or real property rights, a special transfer duty is levied at an overall 5% rate
- Where the contribution concerns a business, goodwill, a right to a lease or a promise of a lease on real property, a special transfer duty is levied, calculated by applying the scale used to assess the duty payable on transfers of businesses.

However, an exemption applies if the contributor keeps the shares remitted in return for the contribution for three years.

Contributions for valuable consideration, which may be analysed as a sale by the contributor to the company in return for unconditional compensation such as the payment of a sum of money or the assumption of a liability incurred by the contributor, are treated as transfers for valuable consideration according to the nature of the assets concerned (real property, business as a going concern, etc.).

Contributions may be a mixture of the two (i.e. remunerated both by shares and by unconditional compensation), in which case the relevant treatment is applied to each category.

LIFETIME

Changes may take place during a company's lifetime that affect its share capital or certain aspects of its status.

Capital increases in cash or by incorporation of earnings, reserves or provisions are liable to fixed duty of €375 if the company's capital is less than €255,000 or €500 if it is €255,000 or more. Capital increases by way of new contributions in kind are treated in the same way as contributions on incorporation.

Capital reductions, whether shareholders are reimbursed or not, are also liable to fixed duty of €375, or €500 for companies with capital of €225,000 or more

The €375 duty is payable on mergers, demergers and partial business transfers between companies liable to corporation tax where the company's capital is less than €255,000 (€500 where the capital is €255,000 or more). Contributions for valuable consideration resulting from a merger are liable to the transfer duty indicated above; however, where the company making the takeover assumes the liabilities that encumber the contributions, they are then exempt from any transfer or land registration duty.

DISSOLUTION

Deeds dissolving companies are liable to the €375 fixed duty (€500 for companies with capital of €225,000 or more) where they do not record any transfer of assets between the shareholders or other persons.

Dissolution of a company is generally followed by a period during which its assets are liquidated. The transfer of corporate assets to third parties is liable to sales duty according to the nature of the asset. Duty may be payable on transfer to and division between shareholders according to the tax treatment of the company, the nature of the transferred assets and the transferees.

TRANSFERS OF SHARES FOR VALUABLE CONSIDERATION

Transfers of shares are liable to registration duties in proportion to the value of the shares.

As from 1 August 2012, a proportional duty of 0.1% is levied, with the following exceptions:

- Purchase of shares by a company as part of the acquisition of its own shares by a listed firm, which will be transferred to members of an employee savings scheme or as part of a capital increase;
- Acquisitions of shares (and associated rights) of companies under a safeguard procedure or in receivership

- Share purchases between companies that are members of the same group
- Acquisitions in connection with mergers, demergers and partial contribution of an entire branch of activity
- Transactions liable to the financial transaction tax
- Acquisitions of shares under earlier incentive schemes to support employees taking over a firm.

For listed companies, transfer duty is payable only if the transfer is recorded by deed.

Because of the many different types of company and share there are many special registration regimes that are not considered in the scope of this handbook.

Irrespective of registration duty, capital gains on transfers of shares are likely to be liable to income tax (see the corresponding section in Part I, Income tax).

D. INHERITANCE AND GIFT DUTIES

Transfers without valuable consideration include transfers following death (inheritance) and transfers without consideration inter vivos (gifts).

For duty on transfers without valuable consideration (DMTG), the following distinction has to be made in order to determine the basis of assessment:

- Where the donor or deceased is or was domiciled in France for tax purposes, duty on transfers without valuable consideration is payable on all movables and real property situated in or outside France
- Where the donor or deceased is not or was not domiciled in France for tax purposes:
  - Where the beneficiary is domiciled in France at the transfer date or has been domiciled there for at least six of the previous ten years, duty on transfers without valuable consideration is payable on movables and real property situated in or outside France
  - Where the beneficiary is domiciled outside France, transfer duty is payable only on the French assets he or she receives

For certain assets, the rules for determining the basis of assessment differ according to whether the transfer is an inheritance or a gift. In the case of an inheritance, the deceased's debts at the date of death are generally deducted from the assets of the estate.

In the case of a gift, debts incurred by the donor in order to acquire or in the interest of the transferred assets that are passed on to the recipient in the deed of gift are deductible from the basis on which duty on transfers without valuable consideration is assessed.

<sup>77</sup> A company investing predominantly in real property is an unlisted legal entity whose assets mainly consist or consisted during the year before the transfer of the interests concerned of real property or real property rights situated in France or participating interests in other unlisted legal entities investing predominantly in real property. Rent-controlled housing bodies and semi-public companies that build or manage low-rental housing are not deemed companies investing predominantly in real property.

For inheritances since 22 August 2007, transfer duty following death does not apply to the surviving spouse, partners of a PACS (Civil Solidarity Pact) and, under certain conditions, brothers and sisters living under the same roof.<sup>78</sup>

Duty on transfers without valuable consideration is calculated by applying a progressive or proportional scale to the amount of the net share received by each beneficiary, where relevant minus relief, the amount of which varies according to the degree of kinship between the parties to the transfer.

For the payment of duty on transfers without valuable consideration, when it comes to inheritances and gifts, the relief applied to the net portion of each taxpayer is:

- €100,000 (applicable as from 17 August 2012) for ascendants, surviving children and those represented should they predecease or renounce their inheritance or gift<sup>79</sup>
- €15,932 for brothers and sisters who do not fulfil the conditions for exemption from transfer duty without consideration (amount applicable as from 1 January 2011)
- €7,967 for nephews and nieces (amount applicable as from 1 January 2011)

In the case of a gift, the relief is set at:

- €80,724 for donations between spouses and between partners of a PACS (amount applicable as from 1 January 2011)
- €31,865 for gifts by grandparents to their grandchildren (amount applicable as from 1 January 2011)
- €5,310 for gifts from great-grandparents to great-grandchildren (amount applicable as from 1 January 2011)

<sup>78</sup> The brother or sister must be single, widowed, separated or divorced at the time of death, be over 50 years of age upon inheritance or suffer from an infirmity that prevents them from meeting their own needs and have been constantly domiciled with the deceased during the five years before death.

<sup>79</sup> The allowance for those with physical or mental disabilities is €159,325 as from 1 January 2011.

SCALE APPLICABLE IN 2017 TO TRANSFERS (INHERITANCE OR GIFT) BETWEEN PARENTS AND CHILDREN:

Fraction of net taxable part	Rate (%)
up to €8,072	5%
between €8,072 and €12,109	10%
between €12,109 and €15,932	15%
between €15,932 and €552,324	20%

Transfers between relatives beyond the fourth degree and non-relatives	60%

<sup>80</sup> Inheritances between spouses or partners of a PACS that have occurred since 22 August 2007 are exempt from duty on transfers without valuable consideration.

Various rules exist for special exemptions according to the status of the deceased or heir, as in the case of gifts or legacies to the State or to scientific, educational, assistance or charitable public establishments.

Exemptions may also apply according to the nature or situation of the assets transferred. For example, shares in companies and sole proprietorships having an industrial, commercial, craft, agricultural or professional activity are exempt from duty on transfers without valuable consideration for up to 75% of their value under certain conditions (the "Dutrel" schemes). In particular, the deceased or donor, with other shareholders, must have given a collective undertaking to keep the transferred shares. The rule is designed to favour transfers of undertakings. Similar concessions also apply to transfers of woods and forests.

Partial and temporary exonerations are also addressed (buildings located in Corsica with respect to transfer duty following death, building lots and new residential buildings with respect to gift allowances).

Finally, family gifts of cash up to €31,865, every fifteen years, are exempt from duty on transfers without valuable consideration.

The tax assessment period beyond which previous gifts are exempt from assessment is set at fifteen years for inheritances and gifts made since 17 August 2012.

Special provisions for insurance policies:

Life insurance policies are a special case and are subject to special tax rules regarding inheritance tax.

Amounts, annuities or values payable directly or indirectly by one or more insurance companies or similar undertakings ("life insurance", as a rule) on the policyholder's death are liable to transfer duty following death<sup>81</sup> according to the degree of kinship between the beneficiary and the policyholder, up to the fraction of premiums in excess of €30,500 paid to the beneficiary after the age of 70<sup>82</sup>.

Where such amounts, annuities or values and associated products are not liable to transfer duty following death, they are subject, after deduction of a set allowance of €152,000 per beneficiary, to a specific levy:

- Of 20% of the portion reverting to each beneficiary between €152,500 and €700,000
- And 31.25% for the fraction of the net portion reverting to each beneficiary over €700,000<sup>83</sup>

These amounts, annuities or values correspond to the redeemable fraction of policies and premiums paid in respect of the non-redeemable fraction of policies, other than survivor annuity policies and certain retirement savings policies taken out in the context of a professional activity.

For the so-called<sup>84</sup> "vie-génération" life-insurance policies<sup>85</sup> (in which at least one-third is invested in low- and middle-income social housing, the social and solidarity-based economy, venture capital or mid-tier companies), a proportional allowance of 20% is added to the general allowance of €152,500.

<sup>84</sup> Policies defined by Decree no. 2014-1011 of 5 September 2014 concerning the policies and investments set out in

CHAPTER 2: STAMP DUTIES AND SIMILAR DUTIES

Stamp duties (droits de timbre) are collected on the performance of certain administrative formalities or the drafting of certain documents; they are also a way of paying for the delivery of certain documents.

They are generally paid by affixing a sticking stamp to a written document.

I – STAMP DUTIES

Stamp duty has to be paid in order to obtain many administrative documents, such as residence permits and passports, hunting permits and licences to drive motor pleasure boats.

II – VEHICLE STAMP DUTY

The level of polluting vehicle emissions has become a criterion for setting the amount of duty payable on documents relating to motor vehicles.

A. TAX ON VEHICLE REGISTRATION CERTIFICATES<sup>86</sup>

A tax (taxe sur les certificats d'immatriculation des véhicules) accruing to regional authorities is payable on automobile and other motor vehicle registration certificates, except where specifically provided otherwise by law.

The regional tax on registration certificates may be fixed or proportional.

Each year, the regional council sets the rate per unit of horsepower of the proportional tax payable on registration certificates issued within the region.

The regional council may take a decision to exempt non-polluting vehicles or vehicles running on E85 ethanol from all or half of the tax.

B. SURTAX ON THE MOST POLLUTING PRIVATE VEHICLES

Vehicles that emit more than a certain level of carbon dioxide registered for the first time in France or elsewhere on or after 1 January 2008 may be liable to a tax in addition to the tax on registration certificates issued when they are first registered in France.

The surtax (écopastille or malus) applies to private cars with EC type-approval<sup>87</sup> that emit more than 126 grams of carbon dioxide per kilometre travelled (126 gr CO<sub>2</sub>/km).<sup>88</sup>

The amount of the surtax ranges from €50 to €10,000 depending on the vehicle's pollution level.

For vehicles that do not have EC type-approval, the tax depends on the fiscal horsepower (CV). Ranging from €2,000 to €10,000, it is payable on vehicles with a fiscal horsepower rating of more than 5 CV.

Vehicles registered as "specialised motor vehicles" or disabled vehicles and vehicles registered by holders of an invalidity card are exempt from the tax.

The CO<sub>2</sub> emission levels in the surtax scale are reduced by 20 grams for each dependent child as of the third.

A 40% reduction in the CO<sub>2</sub> emission levels in the surtax scale is applied to vehicles specially equipped to run on E85 ethanol (flex-fuel vehicles) whose CO<sub>2</sub> emissions do not exceed 250 grams per kilometre.

C. TAX IN ADDITION TO THE REGISTRATION CERTIFICATE TAX

The most polluting private vehicles brought into service on or after 1 June 2004 are liable to a tax in addition to the registration certificate tax.

The so-called "CO<sub>2</sub> tax" applies to vehicles not covered by the surtax described above; in fact, it concerns new vehicles bought up to the date on which the surtax came into force and second-hand vehicles on change of ownership.

The tax applies to vehicles with EC type-approval that emit more than 200 grams of CO<sub>2</sub> per kilometre and vehicles without EC type-approval that have a fiscal horsepower rating of more than 10 (10 CV).

For the former, the tax is based on a three-band scale. The amount of the tax is determined by multiplying the number of grams of CO<sub>2</sub> emitted per kilometre by the rate per gram of the band to which the vehicle belongs.

For the latter, the rate of tax depends on the vehicle's fiscal horsepower rating.

The amount of the tax is reduced by 40% for vehicles specially equipped to run on E85 ethanol, with CO<sub>2</sub> emissions of less than 250 grams per kilometre.<sup>89</sup>

D. ANNUAL SURTAX

An annual flat-rate tax (taxe forfaitaire annuelle, also known as malus annuel) is payable on 1 January of the taxation year<sup>90</sup> by the owners of polluting private cars. This applies to:

- Cars with EC type-approval that emit more than 190 gr CO<sub>2</sub>/km
- For cars without EC-type approval, the tax threshold has been set at 16 CV

Vehicles registered as "specialised motor vehicles" or disabled vehicles and vehicles registered by holders of an invalidity card (or by a person at least one of whose minor children or dependants in the same tax household holds an invalidity card) are exempt from the tax. Companies liable to the tax on company cars are also exempt.

E. TAX ON COMPANY CARS

Companies are subject to a tax on company cars (taxe sur les véhicules de sociétés, TVS) for all passenger cars that they use in France, regardless of the country in which these vehicles are registered, and for the passenger cars that they own and that are registered in France. This tax also applies to vehicles used by company employees or directors for which the company pays mileage.

<sup>90</sup> The rate varies based on the emission of CO<sub>2</sub> (in grams per kilometre) and on the vehicle's fiscal horsepower (in CV).

Passenger cars are vehicles registered as private cars, as well as multi-purpose vehicles which, whilst being registered as commercial vehicles, are used to transport passengers and their luggage or property.

The following vehicles are specifically exempt from TVS:

- Vehicles used solely for commercial purposes, for short-term hires, or for a transport service available to the general public
- Vehicles hired for a brief period
- Vehicles that run on certain energy sources

Furthermore, as from 31 December 2016, vehicles intended solely for agricultural use, and from 1 January 2017, utility vehicles that are wheelchair accessible are exempt from TVS.

For vehicles owned or used by companies, the TVS is the sum of two components:

- One component based on the rate either for CO<sub>2</sub> emissions or the fiscal horsepower, depending on the date the vehicle was put into service
- A second component relative to the emission of atmospheric pollutants, based on fuel type (petrol and similar, or diesel and similar).

The first component is different depending on whether the vehicles were owned or used prior to or after 1 January 2006.

For vehicles with EC type-approval, for which the first entry into service was after 1 June 2004 and which were not owned or used by the company before 1 January 2006, the rate is based on the number of grams of CO<sub>2</sub> emitted per kilometre.

The annual tax is determined according to an eight-band scale. For each vehicle liable to the tax, the annual amount of tax corresponds to the rate per gram of the band to which the vehicle belongs multiplied by the number of grams of CO<sub>2</sub> emitted per kilometre.

CO<sub>2</sub> emissions (in grams per kilometre)	Rate applicable per gram of CO<sub>2</sub>
up to 50	€0
between 50 and 100	€2
between 100 and 120	€4
between 120 and 140	€5.5
between 140 and 160	€11.5
between 160 and 200	€18
between 200 and 250	€21.5
over 250	€27

For other vehicles, the rate depends on their fiscal horsepower rating.

Fiscal horsepower (in CV)	Applicable rate (in euros)
Less than or equal to 3	750
between 4 and 6	1,400
between 7 and 10	3,000
between 11 and 15	3,600
over 15	4,500

Hybrid cars that combine electric energy and a petrol- or diesel-burning engine and that emit less than 110 grams of CO<sub>2</sub> per kilometre are exempt from this initial component.

As from 31 December 2016, passenger cars that combine petrol with natural gas or liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) and that emit less than 110 grams of CO<sub>2</sub> per kilometre are also exempt from this initial component.

This exemption shall apply for a period of eight quarters starting from the first day of the first quarter during which the car was put into service.

The second TVS component is determined based on the level of atmospheric pollutants emitted per fuel type.

Year car was first put into service	Petrol and assimilated	Diesel and assimilated
up to 31 December 1996	€70	€600
from 1997 to 2000	€45	€400
from 2001 to 2005	€45	€300
from 2006 to 2010	€45	€100
as from 2011	€20	€40

The category "Diesel and assimilated" includes cars that operate solely on diesel as well as hybrids that combine electrical power and a diesel-burning engine and that emit more than 110 grams of CO<sub>2</sub> per kilometre.

The category "Petrol and assimilated" includes cars that do not fall under the "Diesel and assimilated" category, with the exception of electric cars.

Vehicles that run solely on electric power are exempt from the second TVS component.

CHAPTER 3: WEALTH TAX

Wealth tax (impôt de solidarité sur la fortune, ISF) is an annual tax payable by individuals on account of their ownership of personal assets, the net value of which, assessed on 1 January of the year of taxation, exceeds a certain amount.

The wealth tax yielded €5.22 billion in 2015.

I – LIABLE PERSONS

Individuals liable to the wealth tax are those whose net taxable wealth exceeds €1.3 million as at 1 January of the year of taxation.

Persons domiciled in France are taxable on their assets in and outside France (taxation on "worldwide assets").

Persons not domiciled in France within the meaning of French domestic law are taxable only on their assets in France, with the exception of their financial investments.

Persons who transfer their domicile to France are taxable, for the five years following their establishment in France, only on their assets in France, where they have not been domiciled in France for tax purposes during the five years prior to the transfer of their domicile.

The tax is assessed by household, which comprises spouses, cohabiting partners, partners of a PACS and minor children whose assets either of them legally administers.

II – TAX BASE

The tax base includes all assets, rights and values belonging to the taxable persons on 1 January of the year of taxation (developed and undeveloped land, real property rights such as usufruct or easements, sole proprietorships, farms, furniture, deposit accounts, cash, financial investments, cars, aircraft, pleasure craft, etc.).

As a rule, taxable assets are valued according to the rules applicable to inheritance tax (in principle at market value). The value is assessed at 1 January of the year of taxation. 30% relief is applied to the real market value of the property which the taxpayer owns and occupies as his or her main home.

Under certain conditions, some debts may be deducted from this tax base, or be subject to a specific charge. To be deductible, debts must exist on 1 January of the year of taxation, must be the personal responsibility of the taxpayer, his/her spouse filing jointly (or concubine or civil partner) or their minor children whose assets they legally administer, and must be supported by all types of proof compatible with the written procedure.

Debts incurred by a taxpayer in order to acquire or in the interest of assets not taken into account for the assessment of the wealth tax owed by the taxpayer in question, or assets which are exempt, shall be exclusively allocated to the value of these assets and are thus not deductible from the taxable base. Where necessary, these debts shall be allocated up to the fraction of the value of these non-exempt assets, i.e. in the same proportion as that in which the assets in question are liable to wealth tax.

Moreover, some assets are fully or partly exempt. These assets primarily consist of professional assets (sole proprietorships effectively managed by the taxpayer; shares in partnerships liable to income tax when the taxpayer exercises his/her main professional activity within the partnership; participation interests held in companies liable to corporation tax provided at least 25% of the company is held by the tax household, or even by the family group when the taxpayer holds a senior managerial position in the company), shares for which the taxpayer has undertaken to keep (under the so-called “Dutreil Scheme”), shares resulting from subscription of the capital of SMEs, investments in certain venture-capital funds or social and solidarity-based enterprises, the capitalisation value of life annuities constituted as part of a professional activity, annuities or compensation received for bodily damage due to an accident or illness, literary and artistic copyrights held by the author, certain rural properties, antiques, artworks and collector's items.

Financial investments of persons not domiciled in France for tax purposes are specifically exempt from wealth tax. However, the following are taxable:

- Shares in an unlisted company or legal entity whose assets predominantly consist of real property or real property rights situated on French territory, in proportion to the value of such assets in relation to the company's total assets
- Participating interests representing at least 10% of a company's capital
- Shares of which more than 50% are held directly or indirectly by legal entities or organisations that own real property or real property rights situated in France.

III – TAX SCALE

The wealth tax is calculated based on progressive income bands. The taxable threshold is set at €1.3 million, but once this threshold has been achieved, the assets are taxed from €800,000.

The tax is calculated by applying the appropriate band to the net taxable value of the assets of the taxpayers in question. The wealth tax thus obtained is thus, where appropriate, reduced by tax deductions granted by reason of providing equity to SMEs or assimilated, or by reason of donations to public interest bodies. Where appropriate, the cap is subsequently applied (see below).

The applicable tax rate is as follows:

Net taxable value of the assets	Rate (%)
up to €800,000	0
between €800,000 and €1.3 million	0.50
between €1.3 million and €2.57 million	0.70
between €2.57 million and €5 million	1
between €5 million and €10 million	1.25
over €10 million	1.50

A “smoothing” mechanism has been introduced for assets worth between €1,300,000 and €1,400,000 to mitigate the impact of changing bands.

The amount of tax calculated based on the rates given in the table above shall be reduced by an amount equal to €17,500 - 1.25% P (in which P is the net taxable value of the assets).

Taxpayers having assets whose net taxable value is greater than or equal to €2.57 million are obliged to file a specific wealth tax statement and to pay the tax spontaneously. For most taxpayers (i.e. those domiciled in France for tax purposes), wealth tax returns must be filed and payments made to the relevant tax office by no later than 15 June each year.<sup>91</sup>

Other taxpayers, i.e. those whose assets have a taxable net value of less than €2.57 million, may include the amount of their assets directly on their income tax form (no. 2042 C). They must also list the gross value of their assets. The streamlining of filing obligations includes a dispensation from presenting supporting documents.

IV – CAPPING OF WEALTH TAX

The wealth tax scale has a capping mechanism.

Thus, the wealth tax for a taxpayer residing for tax purposes in France is reduced by the difference between:

- On one hand, the total of this tax and taxes owed in France and abroad on income and products for the previous year, calculated prior to allocation of the tax credit thresholds for taxes paid outside France and non-discharging deductions; Article 7 of the 2017 Budget Act no. 2016-1917 of 29 December 2016 provided that income distributed to a corporation liable to corporation tax that is controlled by the taxpayer shall be included for the purposes of calculating the cap.
- On the other hand, 75% of the total global income, net of professional expenses, for the previous year, after deduction of the category-specific thresholds authorised under Article 156 of the General Tax Code, together with income exempt from tax and the products subject to a withholding tax in discharge during the same year in France or abroad.

This wealth tax cap limits the amount of this tax and taxes on income for the previous year to 75% of that income. If the percentage is exceeded, the surplus shall be deducted from the wealth tax. It may not be attributed to other taxes or refunded.

CHAPTER 4: TAX ON THE MARKET VALUE OF REAL PROPERTIES OWNED IN FRANCE BY LEGAL ENTITIES (3% TAX)

French and foreign legal entities (corporate bodies, organisations, trusts and comparable institutions) which directly or indirectly own one or more real properties situated in France or hold real property rights relating to such properties are liable to a 3% annual tax on the market value of such properties or rights.

The tax is payable on real properties and real property rights owned on 1 January of the year of taxation.

However, the following legal entities may be exempted from the tax under certain conditions:

- International organisations, sovereign States and their political and territorial subdivisions
- Legal entities that are not deemed companies investing predominantly in real property
- Listed legal entities
- Legal entities established in the European Union or in a country or territory bound to France by an administrative assistance agreement with a view to combating tax fraud and evasion or in a country bound to France by a treaty under the terms of which they enjoy the same treatment as legal entities having their registered office in France.

These provisions apply to legal entities that make small investments in French property, organisations or other institutions that manage pension schemes, public interest organisations and institutions or organisations and institutions managed without personal gain, legal entities that invest in real-estate (real-estate collective investment schemes, known as OPCI and foreign entities subject to equivalent regulations) and those that inform or undertake to inform the tax authorities of the situation, composition and value of real properties owned at 1 January of each year, the identity and address of each shareholder or member and the number of shares or other rights held by each one and those that annually declare the above-mentioned information. The latter exemption may be comprehensive or granted partially according to the shareholders or members of which the legal entities are aware. Legal entities are nevertheless not required to declare shareholders or members that own less than 1% of their capital.

Legal entities liable to the 3% tax must file a return at the latest by 15 May of each year stating the place, composition and market value of taxable real properties and real property rights owned at 1 January of the year of taxation. The return must be accompanied by payment of the tax.

PART IV: LOCAL DIRECT TAXES

Local direct taxes are the oldest taxes in the French tax system. They succeeded the direct taxes that had been created in 1790 and 1791 as State taxes and were transferred to local authorities in the 1914-1917 tax reform.

Local taxes are collected by the State on behalf of local authorities (regions, départements, communes) and public establishments for intercommunal cooperation.

There are four main local taxes – property tax on developed land (taxe foncière sur les propriétés bâties, TFPB), property tax on undeveloped land (taxe foncière sur les propriétés non bâties, TFPNB) residence tax (taxe d'habitation, TH) and the local economic contribution (contribution économique territoriale, CET) comprising a business premises contribution (cotisation foncière des entreprises, CFE) and a contribution on business value added (cotisation sur la valeur ajoutée des entreprises, CVAE). To this is added the flat-rate tax on network businesses (l'imposition forfaitaire sur les entreprises de réseaux, IFER) as well as some additional or similar taxes.

The key feature of local taxes is that they are mainly assessed on a property's notional rental value (valeur locative cadastrale), except for the contribution on business value added and the flat-rate tax on network businesses. The notional rental value does not represent the rent under normal market conditions but a property's theoretical yield as determined by the authorities.

Local tax rates are set by local government assemblies (département and municipal councils, etc.) when voting their annual budget according to the revenue that the various beneficiary authorities expect from the taxes that accrue to them. However, the rates may not exceed certain limits determined by central government, which are applied to bases also determined centrally.

There are many permanent or temporary exemptions.

The four main local direct taxes (property tax on developed land, property tax on undeveloped land, residence tax and the business premises contribution), not including the contribution on business value added and the flat-rate tax on network businesses, yielded €68.57 billion in 2015.

CHAPTER 1: PROPERTY TAX ON DEVELOPED LAND

Property tax on developed land (taxe foncière sur les propriétés bâties, TFPB) is levied annually on developed land situated in France except where there is entitlement to permanent exemption (public property, farm buildings, etc.) or temporary exemption (new or innovative enterprises, incentives for development as part of urban or spatial planning policy). The tax accrues to départements, communes and their public establishments for intercommunal cooperation.

Taxable property includes permanent constructions perpetually attached to the ground such as premises intended to accommodate people (residential properties) or business assets (workshops, sheds), certain civil engineering structures and transport routes, land immediately necessary for such constructions, etc.

The tax base is the cadastral income, equal to 50% of the notional rental value regularly updated by the authorities.

The amount of tax is calculated by multiplying the tax base by the rates voted by each beneficiary local authority for the year in question.

The tax is payable by the owner of the property at 1 January of the year of taxation.

Exemption or automatic relief is granted to elderly or disabled people of modest means, under certain conditions of resources and cohabitation.

A cap of 50% of income for the property tax on developed land contribution relating to main homes is planned to help less well-off households owning their own home.

Property tax on developed land yielded €37.29 billion in 2015.

CHAPTER 2: PROPERTY TAX ON UNDEVELOPED LAND

Property tax on undeveloped land (taxe foncière sur les propriétés non bâties, TFPNB) is levied annually on owners of any undeveloped land of any nature situated in France except where there is entitlement to permanent exemption (public property) or temporary exemption (incentives for organic farming, reforestation and the conservation of environmental interest zones).

The tax accrues to communes and their public establishments for intercommunal cooperation.

As with the property tax on developed land, the tax is payable by the owner of the land at 1 January of the year of taxation.

The basis for assessing the property tax on undeveloped land is 80% of the notional rental value of the property resulting from valuations regularly updated by the authorities.

To encourage owners to put their land up for sale in order to increase the volume of buildable lots, an increase in the notional rental value (valeur locative cadastrale) of buildable lots is applied in zones where real estate pressures are the strongest. Agricultural lands, including those left fallow, are exempt from any increase.

The amount of tax is calculated by multiplying the cadastral income of each property by the rates voted by each beneficiary local authority for the year in question.

Property tax on undeveloped land yielded €1.35 billion in 2015.

CHAPTER 3: RESIDENCE TAX

Sufficiently furnished residential premises and their dependencies (gardens, garages, private parking spaces) are liable to residence tax (taxe d'habitation, TH). The tax is payable by any person who, on 1 January of the year of taxation, has taxable premises at their disposal, whatever their status (owner, tenant, free occupier).

Residence tax is assessed on the notional rental value of residential premises resulting from valuations of developed land updated by the authorities. For residential premises used as the taxpayer's main home, compulsory relief for dependants or optional relief (general relief on the base, special relief on the base, relief for disabled people) is deducted from the notional rental value.

The amount of tax is calculated by multiplying the income from the tax base by the rates voted by each beneficiary commune or public establishment for intercommunal cooperation for the year in question.

Certain premises are exempt from residence tax, either by nature or on a decision of the commune. Persons of modest means as defined by law may qualify for an exemption or for automatic relief on the amount of residence tax on their main home.

For taxpayers who do not qualify for exemption or automatic relief, the amount of residence tax on their main home is capped according to income under certain conditions.

In zones where the annual tax on vacant residential premises is applicable, municipalities may increase by 5-60% the portion of the residence tax accruing to them from furnished accommodations not used as a primary residence.

Tax relief is planned for former principal residences of individuals in retirement homes or long-term care, as well as in the case of double residence for professional reasons or for a reason that is outside the will of the taxpayer.

Moreover, provided that the annual tax on vacant residential premises (taxe annuelle sur les logements vacants, TLV) does not apply on their territory, communes and public establishments for intercommunal cooperation with powers of taxation may, provided they meet certain conditions, levy residence tax on residential premises vacant for two years or more on 1 January of the year of taxation. The tax is payable by the owner of the land at 1 January of the year of taxation.

The annual tax on vacant residential premises is applicable in zones in which real estate pressures are the highest. It is payable by the owner of the property at 1 January of the year of taxation for each property that has been vacant for at least one year at 1 January of the year of taxation. The rates are set at 12.5% for the first year of taxation and 25% starting from the second year of taxation.

These taxes on vacant residential premises are not due in cases where the premises was occupied for more than ninety consecutive days during the previous year of taxation, or in cases where the vacancy was for reasons beyond the taxpayer's control.

Residence tax yielded €22.11 billion in 2015.

CHAPTER 4: LOCAL ECONOMIC CONTRIBUTION

The local business tax was abolished on 1 January 2010 and was replaced by a local economic contribution (contribution économique territoriale, CET) comprised of a business premises contribution based on the rental value of property and a contribution on business value added calculated on the basis of the value added generated by a business.

I – BUSINESS PREMISES CONTRIBUTION

Individuals or legal entities, unincorporated companies or trustees, in respect of their activity governed by a trust agreement, carrying on a regular non-salaried business activity in France are liable to the business premises contribution (cotisation foncière des entreprises, CFE) every year.

All the local business tax exemptions were kept for the business premises contribution, except optional exemptions applying to infrastructure and movable property and those which have lapsed. Exemptions may be:

- Automatic and permanent (essentially cultural, educational, health-related, social, sports-related or tourism activities carried on by the State, local authorities and public establishments, major seaports, low-rental housing organisations, agricultural activities and organisations, private schools, some craft or press activities, specialised press distributors, etc.)
- Automatic and temporary (young lawyers)
- Optional (as they are granted by local authority decision or in the absence of a decision to the contrary) and permanent (furnished accommodation landlords, Municipal Credit Banks, live performances, cinemas, independent bookshops with the LIR label, independent record shops, etc.)
- Optional and temporary (exemptions in respect of spatial planning, urban policy or as incentives for new businesses, created to take over a failing industrial company, which are innovative or part of a cluster). Subject to certain conditions, an allowance is applied to the business premises contribution tax base for businesses based in overseas départements.

The business premises contribution tax base is comprised of the rental value (less 30% for industrial plants) solely for property liable to property tax in France, excluding property exempt from property tax on developed land (machinery and other installations and equipment used to operate industrial plants and the fixed assets used for photovoltaic electricity generation), which the taxpayer used, for business purposes, during the reference period. This does not include assets destroyed or disposed of during the same period. The reference period is usually the penultimate calendar year prior to the taxation year or the last twelve-month financial year closed during said year when this financial year does not correspond to the calendar year.

The business premises contribution is assessed in each commune where the taxpayer has premises or land. In principle, it is payable for the entire year by a taxpayer carrying on a taxable and non-exempt activity on 1 January on the basis of the tax components existing on the last day of the reference period, subject to a certain number of exceptions. For business creations, it is not owed for the first year and the tax bases are halved for the year after creation.

The business premises contribution is calculated by multiplying the tax base less reductions and allowances by the rates decided upon by the communes or their public establishments for intercommunal cooperation with powers of taxation<sup>92</sup>.

The calculated amount may not be less than the minimum contribution determined from a base. The amount of this base is set by the municipal council or the public establishment for intercommunal cooperation, replacing the former. This base must respect the following scale:

Minimum tax base scale for the business premises contribution on turnover or revenue
Turnover or revenue	Minimum tax base (business premises contribution for 2015 payable in 2016)	Minimum tax base (business premises contribution for 2016 payable in 2017) up to €10,000	between €212 and €505	between €214 and €510
between €10,001 and €32,600	between €212 and €1,009	between €214 and €1,019
between €32,601 and €100,000	between €212 and €2,119	between €214 and €2,140
between €100,001 and €250,000	between €212 and €3,532	between €214 and €3,567
between €250,001 and €500,000	between €212 and €5,045	between €214 and €5,095
from €500,001	between €212 and €6,559	between €214 and €6,625

The business premises contribution yielded €7.83 billion in 2015.

II – CONTRIBUTION ON BUSINESS VALUE ADDED

Individuals or legal entities, unincorporated companies and trustees, in respect of their activity governed by a trust agreement, carrying on an activity within the scope of application of the business premises contribution and whose turnover exceeds €152,500 are liable to the contribution on business value added (cotisation sur la valeur ajoutée des entreprises, CVAE).<sup>93</sup> However, businesses which are automatically and entirely exempt from the business premises contribution are also entirely exempt from the contribution on business value added.

In practical terms, only persons carrying on a regular non-salaried business activity and whose turnover is more than €500,000 excluding VAT are liable to the contribution on business value added.

All businesses with turnover of more than €152,500 must file returns.

At the company's request, all exemptions and optional allowances under the business premises contribution apply to the contribution on business value added,<sup>94</sup> subject to rules on decision-making by local authorities and public establishments for intercommunal cooperation.

Exemptions and allowances under the contribution on business value added are related to those for the business premises contribution and the former are therefore lost when the conditions for exemptions or allowances under the business premises contribution are no longer met.

The amount of the contribution on business value added represents a fraction of the value added generated by the business during the reference period.

In theory, the rate of the contribution on business value added is 1.5% of the value added but companies with turnover of less than €50 million may be granted relief, the amount of which varies according to the turnover. For practical reasons, the progressive and variable scale is applied directly according to the turnover recorded by the business when the instalments and balance are paid.

Therefore, in all cases, companies pay a contribution on business value added calculated on the basis of the effective tax rate.

Using the following scale, the percentage of value added actually taxed varies according to the amount of turnover:

If turnover excluding VAT is:	The effective tax rate is:
< €500,000	0%
$500.000 \leq \text{Turnover} \leq \text{€}3,000,000$	$0.5\% \times (\text{Turnover} - \text{€}500,000) / \text{€}2,500,000$
$3,000,000 < \text{Turnover} \leq \text{€}10,000,000$	$0.5\% + 0.9\% \times (\text{Turnover} - \text{€}3,000,000) / \text{€}7,000,000$
$10,000,000 < \text{Turnover} \leq \text{€}50,000,000$	$1.4\% + 0.1\% \times (\text{Turnover} - \text{€}10,000,000) / \text{€}40,000,000$
> €50,000,000	1.5%

The amount of relief is increased by €1,000 for businesses with turnover of less than €2,000,000.

Moreover, for companies with turnover of more than €500,000, the minimum contribution on business value added (CVAE) is €250.

The contribution on business value added is calculated on the turnover recorded and value added generated during the reference period (the year for which the taxation applies).

Turnover and value added used in respect of the contribution on business value added are defined differently according to the company's business regime: ordinary law companies (those receiving non-commercial profits (BNC) and which use cash-based accounting and those receiving income from property), credit institutions and accredited investment companies, financial instrument management companies, companies formed to carry out a single financing transaction, insurance and reinsurance companies, mutual insurance companies and provident institutions.

Value added includes turnover plus or less items expressly provided for by Article 1586 sexies CGI.

For each regime, the nature of the revenue and expenses used to calculate turnover and value added factors in legal, economic and accounting considerations which are specific to each of the five business sectors concerned by these regimes.

For ordinary law companies, taxable value added may not be more than:

- 80% of turnover corresponding to taxable business activity for taxpayers having turnover of €7,600,000 or less;
- 85% of turnover corresponding to taxable business activity for taxpayers having turnover of more than €7,600,000.

Taxpayers carrying on their business activity on 1 January of the tax year owe the contribution on business value added. In respect of restructuring operations carried out as from 22 October 2009, and under certain conditions, the turnover of each liable company involved in the operation corresponds to the total turnover of the liable and non-liaible companies involved in the restructuring operation.

business premises contribution under Article 1466 F CGI is subject, if they so request, to an allowance at the same rate, up to €2,000,000 of value added.

For companies belonging to a group as stipulated in Article 223 A CGI, starting with taxation for 2011, the threshold and scale of the contribution on business value added for each company is evaluated using the turnover of all the group's member companies. Beginning with taxation for 2019, this consolidation will not apply to companies belonging to a group whose parent company benefits from the reduced corporate tax rate and for which the turnover of each group member is less than €7.63 million.<sup>95</sup>

For industrial plants, the elements used to allocate the tax base and, from this, the revenue from the contribution on business value-added (CVAE) (staffing levels and rental value of each establishment) are assigned a weighting factor of 5, starting from the CVAE owed for 2014, in order give greater appeal to those of France's regions that agree to welcome this type of establishment<sup>96</sup>.

The contribution on business value-added paid to local authorities in 2015 came to €16.63 billion.

III – RELIEF ON THE LOCAL ECONOMIC CONTRIBUTION

The local economic contribution is subject to several reduction measures, such as relief for curtailment of activity, relief relating to the ceiling based on the value added (plafonnement en fonction de la valeur ajoutée, PVA) generated by the company and temporary relief from the local economic contribution and ancillary taxes.

For the main relief, the PVA, the ceiling is set at 3% of value added regardless of the company's turnover and business sector. The amount of relief is equal to the difference between the amount of the local economic contribution owed for the tax year and 3% of the value added generated by the company. The value added used is that generated during the reference period for the contribution on business value added.

CHAPTER 5: FLAT-RATE TAX ON NETWORK BUSINESSES

A flat-rate tax on network businesses (imposition forfaitaire sur les entreprises de réseaux, IFER) was introduced in 2010 for the benefit of regional authorities or their public establishments for intercommunal cooperation and the “Société du Grand Paris” public establishment.

Nine categories of assets are subject to the flat-rate tax on network businesses:

- Wind and marine turbines
- Nuclear or fossil fuel-fired power plants
- Photovoltaic or hydraulic power generation facilities
- Electric transformers in public electricity transmission and distribution grids
- Radio stations
- Rolling stock used by the national rail network to transport passengers
- Rolling stock used by public transport lines in Ile-de-France. Revenue from this portion of the IFER is allocated to the “Société du Grand Paris” public establishment
- The main distribution frames of the copper local loop and certain telephone switching equipment
- Certain gas facilities and pipelines for natural gas and other fossil fuels, pipelines for transporting chemical products

All assets located in France are subject to the flat-rate tax on network businesses, regardless of the location of the taxpayer’s registered office.

Specific tax base and calculation rules and coding in the CGI apply to each asset category.

As an example, for nuclear or fossil fuel-fired power plants, the tax is set at €3,084 per megawatt of installed power for 2017. For the rolling stock used by the national rail network to transport passengers, the tax for 2017 is calculated on a scale that changes according to the type of rolling stock (i.e. a high-speed driving unit is taxed at €37,059 whilst a carriage for high-speed passenger transport is taxed at €10,588).

The amounts and rates for each component of the IFER<sup>97</sup> are adjusted each year by the provisional rate of change in the consumer price index, excluding tobacco products, as indicated in the Budget Bill.

In 2015, the IFER yielded €1.55 billion.

<sup>97</sup> With the exception of the main distribution frames of the copper local loop and certain telephone switching equipment.

CHAPTER 6: OTHER LOCAL TAXES

I – ADDITIONAL TAXES

Communes that collect household waste may introduce a household waste collection tax (taxe d'enlèvement des ordures ménagères). Where responsibility for waste disposal has been transferred to a public establishment for intercommunal cooperation, it may levy a tax provided that it at least collects the waste. The tax is assessed on the cadastral income used as the base for property tax on developed land.

Household waste collection tax is payable on all properties belonging to individuals or legal entities liable to property tax on developed land or temporarily exempt from it.

The communes and their intermunicipal cooperation establishments may introduce an incentivising share of the household waste collection tax (taxe d'enlèvement des ordures ménagères), based on the quantity of waste produced locally, which would be added to the existing fixed share.

Household waste collection tax yielded €6.6 billion in 2015.

There are also taxes for the costs of chambers of agriculture, commerce and industry and trade and crafts which accrue to them.

Starting in 2015, a special supplementary annual tax was introduced to benefit the Ile-de-France region, with an eye to financing investments in public transport. It is paid by all taxpayers liable to the property tax on developed land or for the business premises contribution in the communes in the Ile-de-France region. The yield of this additional tax is established each year by the Regional Council of the Ile-de-France region, up to a cap of €80 million for 2015.

II – SPECIAL INFRASTRUCTURE TAXES

Special infrastructure taxes (taxes spéciales d'équipement) accrue to a public land bank or development agency. They are payable by all taxpayers (individuals or legal entities) liable to local taxes within a given area and are calculated on the same basis.

In 2011, a special infrastructure tax was introduced in favour of the "Société du Grand Paris" public establishment. The tax yielded €117 million in 2015.

GLOSSARY

Allowance	Lump sum deducted from the tax base.
Private deed	Written document drawn up by a private individual bearing the handwritten signature of the parties.
Share (action)	Transferable security issued by a joint-stock corporation representing a portion of its capital.
Base (Tax base)	Set of rules or operations designed to determine the elements (profit, turnover, etc.) liable to tax. Element to which a rate is applied in order to calculate a tax.
Liable person	Person liable to a tax.
Notice of assessment	Administrative document stating the elements used as the base for calculating the tax, the amount of tax to be paid, the terms of payment and the payment date.
Non-taxation or non-collection notice	Administrative document sent to the taxpayer stating that there is no tax to pay.
Budget	Set of laws providing for and authorising the State's annual revenue and expenditure. Set of accounts recording all the State's revenues and expenditures in a calendar year. Set of accounts recording a ministry's appropriations in a calendar year.
Scope	All assets, activities, situations and operations covered by a tax measure and the limits of the measure in space and time.
Taxpayer	Person directly liable to the payment of taxes and duties, the collection of which is authorised by law.
Tax credit	Claim that may be set off against a tax.
Reduction	Method for reducing the theoretical amount of tax payable.
Deduction	Amount deducted from gross profit or income.
Tax domicile	Persons are deemed to be domiciled in France for tax purposes when they are in at least one of the following four situations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>. their home is in France;</li> <li>. their main place of abode is in France;</li> <li>. they carry on a business activity in France that is not incidental;</li> <li>. the centre of their economic interests is in France.</li> </ul> Civil servants on duty or on assignment in a foreign country where they are not liable to personal taxation on their total income are also deemed to be domiciled in France for tax purposes.

Collection[CM1]	Payment received in cash and, by extension, payment received by cheque, bank transfer or bank deposit.
Liability	Right that the Treasury may assert from a certain date in order to obtain payment of tax due from the debtor.
Exemption	Release from a tax obligation under certain conditions determined by law.
Taxable event	Event whereby the legal conditions for liability to tax or duty are fulfilled.
Tax household	The place where a taxpayer usually lives, i.e. the usual home, provided that the home (in France) is permanent. The tax household is also the basic family entity for income tax purposes.
Dispensation	Technique whereby tax is not collected when the theoretical amount of tax payable or turnover does not reach a minimum figure.
Taxable	Term that describes a person who by his/her activity, or a transaction which by its nature, falls within the scope of a tax.
Assessment	Calculation of tax by applying a rate or scale to the tax base.
Furniture	Items used to decorate and furnish a dwelling.
Bond	Interest-bearing transferable debt security issued by a company or public authority in return for a loan.
Assets	All the property belonging to an individual or legal entity.
Legal entity	Entity with a distinct existence and standing in law.
Time bar	Time limit beyond which legal action may no longer be taken.
Income splitting	System whereby income tax is made proportional to the number of persons forming the tax household. It consists in dividing the tax household's taxable income by the number of "parts", which in turn depends on each taxpayer's situation and the number of persons deemed to be dependent on them for tax purposes.
Collection	The process by which a tax debt becomes certain on a given date.
Taxable person	Person responsible for paying a tax.
Deduction	Amount deducted from gross profit or income.
Main home	Place where the taxpayer usually lives.
Assessment roll	List of taxpayers indicating the amount of tax they have to pay.
Rental value	Rent that real property would generate if it were let. A distinction is made between notional rental value, set by the authorities when premises are completed or on regular updates, and actual rental value, which corresponds to the market price.
